Britain Cuts Naval Program, Premier Announces

PLANS VISIT TO AMERICA IN OCTOBER

MacDonald Makes Long Expected Statement on Disarmament Plans

FAVORS PARITY BASIS
Several Naval Contracts Cancelled and Building Is Slowed Down

London—(P)—Announcing cancellation of certain naval shipbuilding contracts and the slowing down of other naval construction, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald today made his long expected statement in the house of commons on disarmament and the conversations proceeding between Great Britain and the United States preparatory to another naval disarmament conference.

The head of the new Labor government indicated he may visit Washington in October to confer with President Hoover on advancing the ideals of disarmament and peace.

With the whole field of naval difficulties between the United States and Great Britain having been surveyed by the prime minister and General Daves during their recent conversations in England, MacDonald told the house of commons that the two governments have made a "first" start in the solution of existing problems.

He made the important announcement that agreement had been reached upon the principle of parity, which needs a measure of elasticity to meet the requirements of the two nations.

Ambassador Dawes, who has played such an important role in the reduced program of the United States, MacDonald said, "in the distinguished strangers gallery of the house of commons today with numerous other diplomats to hear Mr. MacDonald's statement."

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Premier MacDonald was closely pressed by Winston Churchill and others about some of the points in his statement, notably whether the minimum naval requirements as stated by the government's professional advisers were fully met by the reduced program the government proposed to carry out.

The premier said he had not the least doubt the minimum requirements would be covered adequately when an agreement with the United States was reached.

Questioned by former Premier Lloyd George when other naval powers would be brought into the picture, Mr. MacDonald stated that the general results of the present conversations were being reported to the other powers which would ultimately be concerned. "I am personally seeing the ambassadors of

ASSEMBLY FAILS TO CONCUR ON SPEED LAW

Madison—(P)—The assembly non-concurred 47 to 34 today in the senate amendment to the tariff code bill which would have removed the 45-mile per hour limit.

Assemblyman Charles A. Budlong, Marinette, said by removing the speed limit highway became race tracks and lives are imperiled.

The code bill passed both houses with the 45-mile per hour limit. Governor Kohler expressed disapproval of a defined speed limit and the measure was withdrawn by joint resolution. The senate amended out the 45-mile limit. The assembly's action tied the matter between the houses. A compromise committee is expected.

OUSTED GOVERNOR TO SEEK OFFICE IN 1930

Newark, Okla.—(P)—Former Gov. Henry S. Johnston, who was removed from office early this year, will run either for governor or for United States senator—he has not decided which—in 1930, he announced here.

"Posterity will rewrite the history of my impeachment," he declared. "Hired propagandists cannot do this, but I will see that it is done and that the guilty parties will be taken to task. I will take my case to the judgment of the people."

Lady Astor Is Center Of Heated Debate In Commons

London—(P)—Lady Astor, who was born in Virginia but sits for Sutton division, Plymouth, in the house of commons, was unperturbed today after a brisk exchange on the common floor last night in which she once was called a "dirty liar."

She finally was told by the presiding officer he would be glad "if the honorable lady would kindly keep quiet."

The discussion centered about removal of various extravagant boards of guardians, Lady Astor mentioning the word "corruption" in connection with some Desham guardians. Three members immediately pressed her to name a single instance.

She gave them only a general answer and was pressed immediately to withdraw the allegation. She declined to do so and Jack Jones, member for Silvertown, former builder's laborer, and a Westham councillor, said it was perhaps because she came from a country where corruption was widely known that Lady Astor was so glib about it.

It was then, in the heat of his excitement, he called Lady Astor a "dirty liar," later on the urgings of fellow members withdrawing the words, although with the remark, "but they are quite Biblical."

Deputy Speaker Dunnington attempted to make peace but Mr. Jones rejoined "I have so many insults from this lady I am resenting them every time."

Meanwhile Lady Astor had begun an argument with another Labor member whereupon the speaker said he would be glad if she kept quiet. "I really very much resent that remark," the speaker replied. "The honorable lady has interrupted again and again and must keep quiet during debate."

The discussion did not end even here, Jack Jones again interrupting: "I tell her straight to her cheek that I am a better man drunk than she is sober."

SENATE BATTLES ON UTILITY BILLS

Question of Municipal and State Ownership Promises Hot Arguments

Madison—(P)—The senate today opened what promises to be a three-day contest over the question of municipal and state ownership of electric utilities.

The upper house has before it a dozen measures, already passed by the assembly, which range from a proposed constitutional amendment allowing the state to engage in the business of operating and selling electric energy to a bill permitting municipalities to compete with privately owned electric plants operating in the same locality.

All senators were locked in the chamber shortly before noon today to compel every member to vote on the bills. A threat to send a sergeant-at-arms to Frederic, Wis., to bring back Sen. C. B. Casperson was made by the senate but was not carried out. He is the only absentee.

Canvasses of the upper house indicated the Conservative majority is holding its members in line to kill the entire utility ownership program, which was prepared and supported by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

5 FIREMEN KILLED AS TRUCK IS UPSET

Chicago—(P)—Three firemen were injured perhaps fatally and two others were less seriously hurt early today when a fire truck, racing to a fire, overturned while trying to avoid a collision with another truck.

The two trucks, answering a special alarm, approached a street intersection at the same time from different directions. When a collision appeared unavoidable, the driver of one swerved sharply and the truck overturned.

Lieut. James Furlong, Robert Mueller, driver of the truck, and Louis Diana were the seriously injured.

The fire swept through a four-story furniture building, causing damage estimated at $50,000.

AIRPLANE COLLIDES WITH STEAM ROLLER

Roosevelt Field, N. Y.—(P)—An airplane and a steam roller collided today, ruining the plane and injuring the operator of the roller.

James Riddle, piloting a small monoplane in which two friends were riding as passengers, chose for his landing a part of the field which is being levelled off and on which two steam rollers were at work, hidden from the air by the cloud of dust they raised.

The descending plane took off the smoke stack of one of the rollers and bowled the operator, A. C. Narver, from his seat, breaking his shoulder.

The plane crashed, tearing off the left wing, and otherwise damaging it beyond repair, but Riddle and his passengers escaped without injury.

PAY $211,000 IN BOGUS BILLS FOR BOOZE CARGO

Halifax, N. S.—(P)—The Halifax Herald said today that several men from the United States paid $211,000 in counterfeit for a cargo of liquor from the Nova Scotia schooner Edith Newhall. The buyers were Edith Newhall, then off the coast, paid the money in fifty and hundred dollar bills and took away the liquor. Captain Wentzell of the Edith Newhall, went to a bank in Mahon Bay with $15,000 the currency, and was informed that the notes were spurious.

CHARGES CHICAGO PAID TOO MUCH FOR TRAILERS

Chicago—(P)—Charges that the city of Chicago paid inflated prices for 955 garbage trailers bought from the Highway Trailer company of Edgerton, Wis., for $1,529,822, have been made to the commissioner of public works, the Daily News said today. The complaint was said to have been filed by a rival manufacturer who demanded that the city sue for the over-charge.

COURT BACKS U. S. RESERVE BOARD STAND

Decision Is Important to Credit Policy of Nation, Capital Holds

INJUNCTION IS REFUSED

Case Involves Complaint Against Arbitrary Raising of Rates

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1929 By Post Pub. Co.

Washington—It is not often that the courts take a hand in deciding matters of governmental policy, but the decision of three judges of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the controversy over the powers of the federal reserve board has been hailed as corroboration of the whole policy of the board itself in the last few months.

Copies of the decision have just reached official Washington and have been examined by members of the federal reserve board, senators and representatives interested in the credit policy of the nation.

The case itself involved an effort to restrain by injunction the federal reserve bank of New York from raising or lowering rediscount rates "arbitrarily and unreasonably." And in dismissing the injunction the circuit court of appeals, affirming the decision of the lower court, made the interesting observation that for all practical purposes the federal reserve bank was a governmental agency and that the federal reserve itself, should have been a party to the dispute.

MAY HAVE WIDE EFFECT

The decision in question may prove the most far-reaching ever rendered by the court on the power of the federal reserve system. Justices L. Hand, Swan, and A. N. Hand reviewed the entire banking policy of the United States, arguing that federal reserve banks, "subject to the supervision of the federal reserve board" had the right to determine what would be a "reasonable rediscount rate."

Frank G. Raichle had contended that the rediscount rate had been "arbitrarily and unreasonably raised." Indeed there have been many suggestions in the last few months that the federal reserve board was

GOVERNOR MOUNTS UNTAMED HORSE AT WYOMING FESTIVAL

Cheyenne, Wyo.—(P)—Presidents and governors pitch out the first ball to open the baseball season but Gov. Frank C. Emerson found his official capacity called for something much more arduous yesterday. He rode the first wild horse out of the chute in the annual frontier day celebration here.

Few spectators realized that the state's chief executive was atop the bucking chrome colored mount that had been named after him until he had covered a considerable distance on the track. The governor stuck in the saddle and earned the plaudits of the crowd.

2 KILLED IN BERLIN OXYGEN WORKS BLAST

Berlin—(P)—Two workmen were fatally injured and many more fatalities were feared to have occurred in one of the biggest explosions in the history of Berlin at the United Oxygen works today. Four workers, two of them gravely burned, were rescued by firemen.

A big steel container at the oxygen works fell over while it was being refilled and the contents came into contact with a fire.

The United Oxygen works is located in the suburb of Borsigwalde. Police drew a cordon around the district as thousands went to view the disaster.

Telephone connection with Berlin was cut off. Panic broke out among workers in the factories. Anxious wives and mothers hurried from their homes to the police lines.

Fifty fire companies fought the fire which followed the explosion. A large number of injured workers were rushed to Berlin hospitals. No check could be made.

3 Banks In New Jersey Shut Doors

Business Is Suspended by Order of State Banking Department

Passaic, N. J.—(P)—The doors of three banks controlled by the New Jersey Bankers Securities company, a holding concern, were closed today by the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance. They were the Robert Trust company, the Service Trust company and the Merchants bank. No announcement was made by the state department.

The New Jersey Bankers Securities company was the subject last year of a searching inquiry by the Davis legislative committee, created originally to investigate the department of bank and insurance, but which later turned its attention to holding companies owning bank stock. The results of the investigation, included the forced resignation of Harry Weinberger, president of the board of directors. Former U. S. Senator Edward I. Edwards, chairman of the board, was named the new president.

John J. Roegner, mayor of Passaic, is president of the Robert Trust company. The bank in its statement as of June 30, listed its total resources as $7,901,639.39. Loans and discounts were $4,399,514.85; liabilities, capital stock, $1,000,000, surplus $3,000,000; undivided profits $199,764.96; time deposits $3,882,000.24 and demand deposits $1,533,552.08.

It was said the other two banks were operated as branches of the Robert Trust, although under different names. They had no presidents.

CAPITAL IMPAIRED

New York—(P)—Frank H. Smith, commissioner of banking and insurance of New Jersey, said today that closing of the Robert Trust company, Service Trust company and Merchants bank of Passaic was decided upon when the department discovered impairment of the institution's capital to the extent of $300,000.

"The situation is chaotic," he said, "but we will try to work it out for the benefit of the stockholders and depositors and salvage as much as possible."

MAKE MORE INQUIRIES IN BELDEN PROBE CASE

Madison—(P)—In order to make additional inquiries into the official conduct of Circuit Judge E. Belden, Racine, the assembly's judiciary committee has asked him to appear before it again next Tuesday.

The committee, which has been instructed to report to the assembly whether Judge Belden should be impeached, desires further information regarding certain of the charges made against him and which were not thoroughly investigated during its inquiry a few weeks ago.

Among the charges on which it desires more information is one that 20 years ago Belden falsely swore he was a resident of Michigan in order to avoid a non-resident fishing license fee in that state.

The committee had expected to have its report ready yesterday, but when it held an executive session to prepare the report, it developed that some members wished to press the inquiry further.

U. S. LAND OWNERS IN MEXICO NOT FAVORED

Mexico City—(P)—The foreign office in a statement published in Excelsior today declared American land owners were not receiving preferential treatment in application of the agrarian laws.

The statement was in answer to an article published by the paper stating a secret agreement entered into the Obregon administration had insured the Americans they would be favored in such matters.

The foreign office denied there was any such secret agreement and said that American landowners were subject to the laws on the same basis as other foreign landowners.

GEORGIA CONGRESSMAN DIES AFTER OPERATION

Washington—(P)—Representative Leslie J. Steele of Georgia, died early today in Garfield Memorial hospital, where he submitted to an operation Monday.

The representative, whose home was Decatur, Ga., was 60 years of age. He entered the hospital a week ago for preliminary treatment for gall stones. Blood transfusions were necessary during the operation, which required several hours, but hope for his recovery was maintained up to the time of his death.

He was first elected to congress in November, 1917, and was returned to his seat in the last election.

CHINESE AND RUSS IN MEET OVER DISPUTE

Officials of Two Countries Ready to Talk About Settlement

Mukden, Manchuria—(P)—The northeastern provincial governments of China, comprising the general political division known as Manchuria, consider that Soviet Russia already actually has begun hostilities.

A pronouncement issued by the Manchurian government here says their seizure of Chinese cargo boats and freight trains, and dispatch of Russian airplanes over Chinese territory "apparently will lead to a breach of the Kellogg anti-war pact."

The northeastern provincial governments are those of Liaoning, Kirin and Heil-Lung-Kiang, divisions of Manchuria. Nominally for more than a year they have recognized the central authority at Nanking, but Nanking's dominance in Manchurian affairs often has been more nominal than real. The Moscow ultimatum of July 13 was addressed jointly to Mukden and Moscow.

TOKYO ADVICES FROM MANCHURIA

Tokyo—(P)—Advices from Manchuria today indicated that Chinese and Russian officials were endeavoring to get together at Changchun in an effort to arrange a peaceful settlement of the Chinese Eastern railway controversy.

Dispatches from Changchun to the Japanese news agency Rengo said that M. Melnikov, Russian consul general, had arrived there unexpectedly from Harbin this morning. He was accompanied by the Chinese commissioner for foreign affairs in Harbin.

The consul general met Chang Tso-hsing, head of the Kirin provincial government and chief lieutenant of Chang Hsueh-Liang, governor of Manchuria. The conference was regarded as a significant approach to direct Russo-Chinese contact by which a peaceful settlement might be arranged. Several other incidents also pointed in the same direction.

SEIZED SIX VESSELS

Harbin, Manchuria—(P)—Chinese authorities today declared Russian troops along the Amur river had seized a total of six Chinese vessels and one large barge laden with merchandise, explaining details of the statement issued by the north eastern provincial governments of China at Mukden.

Seizure of freight cars by the Russians, which is also mentioned in the statement, was said to relate to Chinese Eastern railway in Siberia.

These cars were detained by the Russians who foresaw the severance of relations between Russia and

WILL SPEED UP ACTION TO REDUCE ARMY COSTS

Washington—(P)—Secretary Good announced today an effort would be made to expedite the study of military expenditures in an effort to apply any reduction which might be expected to the budget to be transmitted to congress early in December.

The war department head said the commission of general staff officer proposed by President Hoover to conduct the survey would be appointed within a few days.

The survey, he added, would be carried out with the view of cutting costs wherever possible without injuring the efficiency of the army and national defense plans.

The survey by army officers solely rather than with the inclusion of civilian members on the commission was declared by secretary to be the logical step as the army officers were capable and equipped to study the complicated organization of the service.

A program for reducing the expenditures, he added, had been under consideration for some time.

BIG DAMAGE IS DONE BY STORM IN STATE

Stoughton—(P)—Thousands of dollars in damage was done by a windstorm in the Dunkirk, Stoughton and Lake Kegonsa neighborhood yesterday.

The loss at the Harry L. Johnson farm near Dunkirk amounts to $8,000, a large barn filled with hay, a large tobacco shed, and a silo being destroyed.

A tobacco shed and silo on the James Burrill farm were destroyed. A tree was blown down on the roof of the J. K. Anderson home here. Telephone and electric power lines suffered.

SON OF STATE SENATOR PROSTRATED BY HEAT

Racine—(P)—Racine's first heat prostration of the summer was recorded this morning when Rudyard Goodland, was overcome while at work. Mr. Goodland, while supervising the laying of a gas main, was stricken and fell down, suffering a deep rash in the head. Physicians predict his recovery.

Senator Borah May Lead Attack On Sliding Tariff

Washington—(P)—An indication that Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, may be given an opportunity to lead the senate attack on the flexible provision of the house tariff bill was seen by some observers today in the distribution of an expression of his views on the subject by the Democratic National committee's publicity bureau.

Whether he is considering such a course has not been disclosed by the senator. It is recalled, however, that he opposed the flexible provision in the present law while it was under consideration in 1922, and he is known to differ with the house Republicans on many points in the pending bill, having proposed, short-

Hint Nation Will Act To Slash Navy

"Important Announcement" Expected Before Tonight at Capital

Washington—(P)—It was indicated at the White House today that an important announcement might be forthcoming before night fall and it was believed in some quarters that the question of naval limitation would be discussed.

This belief was heightened by the utterances in London of Premier MacDonald on the naval subject, word of which reached Washington almost at the hour that the Kellogg-Briand treaty to renounce war as an instrument of national policy was placed in effect.

What might be forthcoming from the White House was a matter of conjecture, but for some time it has been known that Ambassador Davies has been going over the naval problem with British officials. MacDonald's statement that agreement had been reached upon the bringing of parity and that the London government had decided to sustain work on a number of warcraft were received with interest but no comment was made immediately.

SAYS HOOVER CANNOT CHANGE FLOOD PLAN

Washington—(P)—Attorney General Mitchell ruled today that President Hoover has no right to alter the plan of Mississippi River flood control in connection with the compact on to landholders in the Missouri-Bled's Point-New Madrid, Missouri, floodway.

The decision of the attorney general, which was made public at the war department by Secretary Good, upheld the army engineers' plan to purchase floodway rights on lands which might be inundated in the floodway and to acquire outright either by negotiation or by court condemnation proceedings the land on which the new levees of the floodway would be constructed.

RUM RUNNERS' BODIES ARE TAKEN FROM LAKE

Windsor, Ont.—(P)—The bodies of two rum runners who are believed to have drowned while attempting to cross Lake Erie with liquor from Canada, were recovered yesterday near Windsor, Mich.

The bodies were identified as those of Harold Cornish, 35, of Saginaw, and Phillip Teachout, 35, of Pontiac. American police believe their boat had been upset in the heavy seas last Friday night.

A search of Teachout's pockets disclosed Canadian customs clearance papers for two cases of whisky and 200 bottles of beer.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO PAIR

Mr. Hoover declared he was glad of an opportunity to pay "merited tribute to the two statesmen whose names the world has properly adopted in its designation of this treaty."

To Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, the president said, "was much of the success of the negotiations which followed, while to former Secretary Kellogg was due the credit for expanding the treaty into a pact world-wide significance.

The chief executive also took occasion to felicitate former President Coolidge for his part in the successful negotiation of the treaty and to thank Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, and Senator Swanson, of Virginia, for their efforts in behalf of the pact at the time it was pending in the senate.

In the course of his address, Mr. Hoover announced that Secretary Stimson today had forwarded to the French government a message of felicitation upon the coming into force of the treaty.

The president's remarks were pre- faced by a recital of the three ar-

Predicts That Instrument Will Have Influence on Future of World

JAPAN DEPOSITS PACT Move to Outlaw War Becomes Effective at Noon Today at Capital

Washington—(P)—By its own terms the Kellogg-Briand treaty for renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy became effective at noon today with the deposit by Japan at the state department of its formal instrument of adherence.

The document of ratification personally was presented by Ambassador D. Whitch of Japan, and with this action the treaty became binding upon 46 nations which have expressed adherence to its terms.

There was no ceremony at the department and immediately after receipt of the Japanese instrument these present for the occasion left for the White House where a short time later President Hoover had arranged to proclaim that the treaty now was in force.

Both while and after the papers were deposited the Japanese ambassador and Secretary Stimson posed for photographs. Aside from these and press correspondents only a few were present for the event.

Mr. Coolidge wore a dark blue suit and a plain straw hat. A reminder that he still fishes was found in a bandage on his left wrist, a souvenir of a slip while after trout. He removed this bandage shortly after his arrival at the hotel.

WHITE HOUSE CEREMONY

President Hoover today proclaimed effective the Kellogg-Briand treaty for the renunciation of war and congratulated "the entire world" upon "this additional instrument of humane endeavor" for the sake of peace.

Ceremonies of imposing simplicity attended the promulgation of the pact. Gathered in the historic east room of the White house were former President Coolidge, former Secretary of State Frank D. Kellogg, and the diplomatic representatives of all but two of the nations that have become parties to the treaty.

Delivering a short address, Mr. Hoover asked the diplomats to convey to their governments the appreciation of the United States that "through their cordial collaboration an act so auspicious for the future happiness of mankind" had been brought to its consummation.

"I dare predict," he said, "that the influence of the treaty for the renunciation of war will be felt in a large proportion of all future international acts. The magnificent opportunity and the compelling duty now open to us should spur us on to the fulfillment of every opportunity that is calculated to implement this treaty and to extend the policy which it so nobly sets forth."

Record-Breaking Endurance Plane Continues Flight

RICH REWARD DUE AIRMEN AT LANDING

Each Will Get $1,324 for Every 24 Hours Robin Remains Aloft

BULLETIN
St. Louis —(AP)—Completing 269 hours continuous flying at 12:17 p.m. today, Dale Red Jackson and Forest O'Brien, new endurance flight champions, were still circling in their St. Louis Robin above Lambert-St. Louis field with no sign of weakening. They had bettered the former endurance record by more than 22 hours.

St. Louis —(AP)—Dale "Red" Jackson and Forest O'Brien, pilots of the world's endurance plane, the St. Louis Robin, entered the realm of high finance as well as atmosphere yesterday at 3:01 p. m., central standard time. It is worth exactly $1,324 to each flier to stay aloft for periods of 24 hours.

The fliers, who spent their eleventh night in the air, were looking forward to the end of the flight when the new air-cooled six-cylinder Radio Curtiss-Challenger motor "ran out." Their first motor trouble came shortly before the Angelene record of 246 hours 45 minutes and 10 seconds was equalled when oil sprayed over the cabin windows. However, in later notes no mention was made of the trouble and the pair who refueled the plane with 115 gallons of gas last night said there was no appearance of oil on the windows.

WILD CELEBRATION
Since flying over the downtown district shortly before the record was equalled yesterday, the St. Louis Robin stayed above Lambert-St. Louis field on orders of Major Albert Bond Lambert, official observer, and Major William B. Robertson of the Curtiss-Robertson company. A din of whistles, sirens and bombs accompanied by showers of paper, gave warning in the business section of the new world record. It was such acclaim as greeted Colonel Lindbergh on his return from piloting the Spirit of St. Louis from New York to Paris.

The celebration continued last night with a half-hour fireworks display at Lambert-St. Louis field. Jackson and O'Brien took part in the affair with flares.

In notes dropped yesterday Jackson told of a near collision Monday night when a plane bearing photographers seeking pictures of the refueling got in the way and Jackson missed them by 15 feet. He also complained of plane's pilot giving them the "wash" of the propeller. Another note told of the long and lonely night vigil.

FAMILY AT FIELD
Jackson received orders from Mrs. Jackson yesterday to learn to play a ukelele while on the flight, saying she wouldn't allow him to come down until he had mastered the instrument "and that will keep you up there quite a while."

O'Brien's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O'Brien and his sister Ruby, arrived from their Cedar Rapids, Iowa, home, yesterday while Jackson's parents, his brother and sister were on their way from Fairbault, Minn. This will complete the family circles as the wives of the fliers have been at the field during the flight. Mrs. O'Brien acting as dietitian. Congratulatory messages came in steady streams including one from a proud parent who said their son had been named for Dale Jackson. Another came from Loren Mendall and Roland Reinhardt whose record of 246 hours plus was the one broken by the St. Louis Robin.

It was the fifth time this year the refueling mark had been exceeded, first by the Question Mark at Los Angeles, in 150 hours, 40 minutes, next by James Kelly and Reginald Robbins at Fort Worth with 172 hours, 32 minutes, then the City of Cleveland with 174 hours, one minute, at Cleveland, and the Angelene.

LOOMIS, GLASS IN AIR
Houston, Tex. —(AP)—Determined to beat the refueling endurance record of the St. Louis Robin, regardless of how long that ship remains aloft, Glenn L. Loomis and Joe Glass continued circling the Houston airport today in their monoplane Billion Dollar City.

The fliers reported their motor was in fine condition and said they would not come down until it failed. They have been in the air more than 160 hours.

COOLIDGE PAYS HIS FIRST VISIT TO U. S. CAPITAL SINCE MAR. 4

Washington —(AP)—Calvin Coolidge alighted from a train at 7:05 this morning for his first visit to the capital since March 4. His arrival was attended with only a little more ceremony than that accorded to any other of the scores of passengers. Mr. Coolidge came to Washington to attend ceremonies in connection with the promulgation of the Kellogg pact. Traveling alone, with three pieces of hand baggage, the ex-president was met at the Union station by George Akerston, President Hoover's secretary; Everett Sanders, Mr. Coolidge's secretary when he was in the White House; Col. Campbell Hodges, White House military aide; and Col. E. W. Starling of the White House secret service, assigned to Mr. Coolidge for the day.

The former chief executive shook hands with newspapermen at the station and greeted Francis Robinson, veteran chauffeur of the White House automobile, who drove him to the Willard hotel, where Mr. Coolidge resided while vice president.

LOOSE GRAVEL SENDS CAR OFF HIGHWAY

Iola Man Badly Injured on Way Home from Dancing Party

Alfred Johnson, Iola, was badly cut about the head shortly after 11 o'clock Tuesday night when his car turned in a ditch after striking loose gravel when rounding a curve about five miles north of Weyauwega. Johnson and a friend who was uninjured had attended a dance at Bear Lake and left there about 11 o'clock. The friend, who was unaccustomed to driving, took the wheel, and when the car struck the gravel was unable to control it. Johnson's head was forced through the windshield. He was picked up by passing motorists and taken to Weyauwega where he received first aid. The top of the car, purchased a week ago, was badly damaged, the windshield was broken, and the doors were sprung.

4-H CLUB BOYS END CAMP PERIOD TODAY

Rural 4-H club boys, who have been camping at Camp Chicagami on the east shore of Lake Winnebago, vacated the camp Wednesday noon and it was taken over by a group of women from rural home economics club. The boys camped from Sunday to Wednesday after the girl members of 4-H clubs had camped from Wednesday to Sunday of the previous week. Gus Sell, county agent, and Miss Harriet Thompson, county club and home economics leader, had charge of the camp. Miss Thompson, assisted by Miss Edna Huffman, food specialist with the state home economics department, will have charge of the camp for women. There will be a program of recreational activities as well as a program of short daily classes in home economics subjects.

her town last night staged its own celebration when word was received from Rhinelander that Dale "Red" Jackson and Forest O'Brien, in the St. Louis Robin, had shattered all endurance flying records and were still going strong. Jackson spent several summers here and taught several villagers how to fly.

SELF-DEFENSE TO BE SNOOK'S PLEA IN COURT

Emotional Insanity Also Part of Defense's Contention in Slaying

Columbus —(AP)—A charge of first degree murder carrying a penalty of death faced Dr. James H. Snook, dismissed Ohio State university professor, in common pleas court today for the confessed slaying of Theora Hix, six weeks ago.

Snook's attorneys said his efforts to escape conviction would be based on a plea of self-defense and emotional insanity.

The studious girl for whom Snook maintained an apartment was beaten into insensibility on a rifle range near Columbus. In his confession to a former professor said their struggle followed a jealous quarrel in which the girl opposed his leaving town with his wife and small daughter. He said he then slit her throat "to end her suffering" as she lay unconscious.

A special venire of 75, including 16 women, were under summons for the first hearing today. County Prosecutor John C. Chester, Jr., indicated that difficulty in obtaining the jury of 12, including one alternate, was anticipated however. Thirty-five witnesses for the state were not told to report until Friday.

Opposing the state's contention of premeditated murder was the statement that the girl meant to kill his wife and child. E. O. Ruckets, chief of defense counsel, withdrew a request for a sanity hearing Monday after outlining his defense. He asserted more evidence bearing on the veterinarian's mental condition could be introduced at his trial than before a sanity jury.

Chester said Snook's signed confession would be submitted in evidence despite defense assertions that document, obtained after 16 hours of questioning was without value. The prosecutor also held the statements of two newspaper men who talked with Snook after he confessed. They said he reiterated his admissions.

Eight alienists have interviewed Snook. Three examined him for the prosecution, three for the court, and two for the defense. Chester said the state's alienists would not be called except in rebuttal.

Largest U.S. Submarine "Rescued" In Navy Test

San Diego —(AP)—Marking another step toward lessening the perils of submarine service, tests in which the V-4, America's largest undersized fighting craft was "rescued" with her complement of 87 officers and men were carried out here yesterday.

With the precision of a carefully regulated machine, fresh air was supplied to the submarine's compartments, the old air exhausted, and finally, the submarine brought to the surface by compressed air lines from the rescue vessel Ortolan, which "blew" the ballast tanks of the V-4 lying on the bottom of the Pacific, 56 feet below the surface.

While the experiment of "blowing" a submarine to the surface has been tried before, this was the first time that it had been done in the open sea, and the first time that it had been tried with a vessel the size of the V-4. It demonstrated beyond any doubt, navy officers said, that rescue work in this manner can be carried on successfully.

Thirty-nine minutes after the huge submarine settled to the floor of the ocean the first rescue diver set his

Many other famous doctors and surgeons listened to the addresses at the meeting.

Dr. William Mayo spoke of the travels of himself and his brother, commenting on the characteristics of medical work in three countries he had visited.

"The French are the most intuitive I have met on my travels. They marshal their facts so readily and logically and as operators they are brilliant."

"The Germans are essentially encyclopedic and accumulate vast stores of knowledge."

AMELIA EARHART TRIES OUT DEEP SEA DIVING

Block Island, R. I. —(AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart, thwarted in her attempt to get a taste of deep sea diving Monday, tried it again yesterday and remained under 12 minutes.

She was lowered from the privately owned submarine defender. When she started down from the same craft Tuesday she was suddenly pulled to the surface. Although reports stated that she had pulled the signal rope, it developed that the reason for the sudden end of the venture was the discovery of a leak in her diving suit by Frank Crilly, professional diver, and she was hauled up much to her surprise and chagrin.

Dr. Mayo told an interviewer he and his brother "always lived out of the same pocketbook. We never have any division. We have the same ideals that are very dear to us and mean more than reputation or reward."

The statement of the first lord of the admiralty was made in reply to a question whether it was the Labor government's intention to rule out entirely the United States as a possible enemy.

CULTIVATE YOUTH TO SOLVE CRIME,
PASTOR ADVISES

Practice Accomplishes More
Than Punishing Criminals,
Club Hears

Showing a deep enough interest in youth so boys of today can be trained into sturdy citizens is a more profitable way of solving the crime problem than punishing criminals, stated the Rev. Ralph A. Garrison in an address before the Rotary club at Hotel Northern Tuesday noon.

Rev. Garrison, who spoke on Crime Conditions in America and Things We Can Do to Remedy the Situation, said that crime has increased 25 per cent in America in the past year, and gave statistics to prove that many of the crimes committed are the acts of young people.

"In the past 20 years," he said, "20,000 persons between the ages of 18 and 25 have been confined to the Indiana reformatory at Pendleton, Ind. Not a single boy scout was included in this group. Eighty-five per cent of them were from broken homes and only four per cent had church affiliations."

He also stated that only one per cent of Indiana's population can neither read nor write, but that one per cent furnished 37 per cent of this reformatory group.

Declaring that the nation cannot be right if the homes are not as they should be, the speaker pleaded that fathers give more attention to younger boys.

NEEDS CULTIVATION
"Youth is like a garden," he said, "if it is not cultivated and directed along proper channels, sin will take root like weeds in a garden. An idle brain is the workshop of the devil, and our problem is to see that our boys are kept busy with wholesome work and recreation. The modern church program is built along lines which will help to train youth away from criminal pursuits, but the help of the home is a more important factor. Rarely does a boy brought up in a home with the right influences go wrong, and even the 'wild boy' will turn out all right if his parents give him the proper kind of attention at the right time."

Rev. Garrison told of a project for boys in Detroit, Mich. When it was discovered that one out of every eight boys in Detroit had been brought into court, 60 business men bought an old cigar factory and turned it into a club. When it opened 200 boys were enrolled, and now there are 4,000 members. As a result juvenile delinquency has been noticeably reduced, and not one boy who is active in the club has come into court.

Though the speaker believed that the main solution of the crime problem is the training of youth, he stated that speedier trials and harsher treatment of criminals would do much to save the country from criminals, and to save boys from entering the criminal field, a life that is full of hardship. He quoted Chief Justice Taft on the subject of justice in America, and warned that the nation was in great danger when the fear of the policeman's club superseded recognition of the law itself.

Thirteen guests, including Rotarians from the east and the south, were present at the Rotary luncheon. They were Miller Manier, Nashville, Tenn.; Dean Hafferman, Harrisburg, Pa.; W. C. Friedland and Ira Clough, Menasha; Park R. Kolbe, Brooklyn, N. Y.; J. Leslie Sensenbrenner, Niagara Falls; Donald Bohon, Harrodsburg, Ky.; Lawrence C. Gates, Cleveland, Ohio; L. R. Watson, and Frank Ricker, Chicago; Carroll W. Doten, Cambridge, Mass.; Ira Updyke, Ashland, Wis.; and Frank R. McNutt, Crawfordville, Ind.

OPPOSE INJUNCTION
FOR SHIPPING YARD

Farmers Believe Shipping Station Should Be Centrally Located

The meeting of the Rural Affairs committee of the chamber of commerce scheduled for yesterday afternoon was postponed until next Tuesday afternoon when only a few members attended.

Charles Krueger, representing the Appleton Livestock Shipping association, was among the men present and discussed the attitude of the farmers with reference to the location of stock shipping yards. It has been proposed that the railroad company erect new yards either on the present site at the end of Clark-st or on a new location. Members of the Appleton Livestock Shipping association, who send out about 30 cars of livestock a year from Appleton, are opposed to moving the yards to Appleton Junction, it was said.

The committee is considering asking the railroad company to build a shipping yards with a tuberculosis testing building in connection to

YOUNG MEN ADMIT
BURGLARY CHARGES

Pair Will Be Taken to Stevens Point Friday for Sentencing

Edward Larson, 22, New York, and Jack Husinick, 21, Canada, pleaded guilty before Justice S. W. Johnson, at Waupaca Tuesday afternoon to burglary and are to be taken before Judge Byron S. Park in circuit court at Stevens Point Friday for sentence. Under the law the police justice cannot sentence criminals on this charge.

The two young men were arrested about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning a short distance west of Waupaca after they had burglarized the Pitt family station at Fremont and stolen about $2 in small change, a radio, and a large stock of cigars, cigarettes and candy.

Observed at their work by members of the Pitt family, the two young men fled from Fremont in a car which they had stolen at Oshkosh. Sheriff Arthur Steenbock and Ernest Wolezer, Waupaca, waited in that city until the fleeing car passed through and then pursued the pair, overtaking them at Chady's corners.

After their arrest investigation showed that the car they were driving had been stolen. It was returned to its owner.

BIG CROWD HEARS
CONCERT BY BAND

Musicians Welcomed as They Play First Concert After Long Trip

A huge crowd welcomed the 120th Field Artillery band last night in Pierce park when it played its homecoming concert after its return from an eventful trip to the west coast and to Canada.

The band, under the leadership of Director E. F. Mumm, played the selections "which brought home the bacon" in the Elks national contest at Los Angeles and won prolonged applause. The selections were played with a snap and finish that is difficult to describe.

Mr. Mumm briefly reviewed incidents of the trip to the coast, declaring that Appleton was thoroughly advertised by the journey. He described the huge response of telephones and telegrams that poured into the radio stations from which the band broadcast programs. At Salt Lake City the radio station received a radiogram from Peru stating that it was one of the finest programs ever heard from that station.

In spite of the fact that the concert was announced yesterday for

SMALL GIRL CHASES
LARGE BEAR OUT OF TOWN—ELDERS FLEE

Ashland — (AP) — Dozens of mothers caught up their children and fled in terror from a large and decidedly wild black bear which cavorted about this city of 12,000 for half an hour on Tuesday. Men seized rifles to protect their families.

It remained for 6-year-old Hilda Anderson, to play the role of heroine, however, when the wiles of the older heads failed.

The bear, the first to invade Ashland in four years, lumbered into the residential section from the woods at the south edge of town. It prowled through yards, gardens, streets and alleys in an area of twelve blocks. Every one but a few hunters ran for cover.

At the home of F. G. Swanson, a number of children were playing in the lawn when the unwelcome visitor made its appearance. As her playmates ran away screaming, Hilda, thinking the bear was a big wooly dog, ran after it. Becoming as frightened as the populace, the bear turned tail and dashed back into the woods west of town.

The damage: A few trampled gardens and not a few shaken nerves.

APPLETON MEN AT HIGH CLIFF PARK HEARING TUESDAY

Bill Before Legislature Would Make Tract a New State Park

Four Appleton men, John Hant-schel, Kenneth Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, J. P. Frank, and Oscar Schmieg, assemblyman from the First district of Outagamie-co were among the 75 or more persons who appeared before the joint finance committee of the state legislature Tuesday, and talked in favor of passage of a bill purchasing High Cliff park as a state park.

No opposition was voiced to the bill which if passed appropriate $25,000 for three years for purchase of the acre tract as a state park.

Highcliff park, if purchased as a state park will be one of the few in the state located in populated areas. It was pointed out that five state parks among the Mississippi are accessible to other state residents rather than Wisconsin, and that people in this section, a group estimated at 300,000 persons must go to the Sturgeon Bay peninsula to spend a day at a state park. High Cliff park would be easily reached by people living in Green Bay, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Kimberly, Appleton, Neenah and Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Manitowish, Two Rivers and numerous inland cities.

The Indian lore and legend about High Cliff also was recalled for the legislators who were reminded that realtors have bought up land along the lake and that in another year the time the site for the park might not be available.

Other speakers from the valley were F. J. Schneller, Neenah, past state commander of the American legion who spoke for that organization; Anton Jansen, president of the village of Little Chute; John Rohan, assemblyman from the Second district of Outagamie-co; N. E. Lambert, and William Krueger, the latter two of Neenah. Other representatives at the hearing were from Menasha, Kaukauna, Appleton, Chilton, town of Harrison, and Oshkosh.

Unofficial reports from Madison are that the bill was approved by the committee.

FEDERAL DRY MEN RAID SOFT DRINK PLACE AT KAUKAUNA

Dump Several Barrels of Alleged Beer into Street Gutters

Swooping into Kaukauna from Sheboygan late Tuesday afternoon a squad of federal prohibition agents from the Milwaukee office raided the soft drink parlor operated by George Zwick. Several barrels of alleged beer were dumped into the gutter of the street just outside the saloon and a large crowd of townspeople swarmed about watching the agents at their task. Zwick has only operated the place for about two weeks having recently purchased it from the previous owner. While there were many rumors about Kaukauna that other soft drink parlors had been raided it could not be definitely established up to Wednesday noon whether any other places were raided.

W. Frank Cunningham of the federal prohibition department in Milwaukee, said Wednesday noon that his officers had not made a report on the raid at Kaukauna and he could not say who had been arrested or when they would be taken into court.

This was said to be the first time the federal officers have raided in Kaukauna and practically every saloon in the city was locked shortly after the raid on Zwick's place as the "tip-off" system got working.

China and did not deliver the cars to the Chinese Eastern at Pogranch-naya.

Among the six Chinese vessels confiscated by the Russians were a paddle steamer and a stern-wheeler in first class condition. Both of these were originally Russian but escaped into the Sungari river at the time of the Russian revolution.

Telegrams from frontier points said all cargo was confiscated on these ships and the passengers held, but it was not made clear whether the vessels were on the Russian side of the river or the Chinese side when seized.

Chinese authorities here assumed the Blagoveshtchensk authorities acted on their own responsibility.

NO SLIGHT INTENDED

Washington—(AP)—Secretary Stimson has concentrated on "getting something done" in the effort to avert war between China and Russia with little or no thought of diplomatic traditions, but as far as he is aware has given no ground for any feeling in Japan that the Tokio government has been slighted.

News advices from Tokio saying such a feeling prevailed there and that it was based on lack of notification to the Japanese government, despite its paramount interest in the Manchurian situation, of the secretary's quick move to remind the Chinese and Russian governments of their obligations under the Kellogg treaty, are described by him as unfounded.

Men's Hot Weather Apparel Six Times As Heavy As Flappers', But What Can Poor Male Do About It?

It's no secret that women have all the luck when it comes to hot weather wearing apparel—and here's a picture layout that proves the point. At the left is Miss Ethel South of Cleveland, garbed as any modern young woman is garbed on a hot day. In the next picture Miss South's clothing is shown reposing on a scales; net weight, one pound and three ounces. Next we have the average man's summer clothing—which, if you'll notice weighs one ounce over seven pounds. The last picture shows the hot weather garb devised by Herbert Barrier, a Knoxville (Tenn.) newspaper reporter. It's cool, all right—but when Barrier tried wearing it to work he found out it just wouldn't do.

Cleveland, O.—Why should men

during the hot summer months be forced by custom to drip and droop under the fardels of outrageous raiment, while the fair sex cavorts about in backless and sleeveless creations?

Why should not the tired business man cast off the trousers that envelop him from hip to ankles in favor of something like track pants? Coats, vests, suspenders, shirts, hose, ties and shoes—all of them heat containers—make men walking furnaces in warm weather, and doctors say light and well-ventilated clothing means better health when the days are hot.

A weight contest conducted here shows that the clothing men wear weighs about six times that of the girls. The ladies consider themselves fully garbed with slightly over a pound of clothing, while the men tote in excess of seven pounds.

Take shoes, for instance. A man has to have 2 1/2 pounds of hard leather, wrapped around his fallen arches to feel presentable. The ladies wear sandals that you have to have weighed in a jewelry store.

A man must encase himself in at least 3 1/2 pounds of wool or what looks like wool to feel dressed. A girl picks out six ounces of frilly silk that breezes can easily warm through, puts a gram of powder on her nose and is well frocked.

In far away London a Men's Dress Reform party has been organized backed by several physicians. They hope to change the clothing habit along the lines recently adopted by the ladies and they assert all the hard working gets will feel much better if they get rid of the heavy clothes.

Dr. Philip Lindsay, head of the Cleveland Life Extension Clinic, favors the idea and suggests masculine summer apparel should consist of light linen trousers, a shirt and sandals.

Herbert Barrier, reporter for the Knoxville News-Sentinel decided to start a one-man crusade there to give the cold shoulder to hot weather clothing.

Herbert came to work the other day in what you might call a de luxe track suit and a smile. In a sheer rayon sleeveless shirt, Boy Scout pants and a straw hat, the young reporter, inquiring but not perspiring, wended his way to work—and got a good crowd wherever he went.

Herbert found the men ready to laugh, but did not score by so much as the removal of one spotted vest. He found the men ready to tell one another how hot it was, and how they would like to be fishing, or in some good cool cellar partaking perhaps of cheese and nectar, but not one double-breasted coat 'came off.

He discovered that the male, over-dressed in dog days and all, prefers to persist in his ignorant, doltish ways, rather than to free himself of the shackles of a stifling disguise.

Another important revelation of Barrier's crusade was that while the girls dress coolly to look like hot stuff, the men dress warmly talk heatedly and look terrified.

In other words, the reception that Herbert got was so chilling that he had to go home and put on a couple of ulsters to keep himself from being frost bitten.

It's illogical for the men to writh under seven pounds of clothes while the best dressed flappers wear about a pound, and something should be done about it. But what?

METHODISTS DISCUSS WOMEN AS MINISTERS

Plymouth, England—(AP)—The Wesleyan conference, meeting here, again postponed the question of admitting women into the ministry, in view of the difficulties involved and the approaching consummation of union of the three branches of English Methodism.

The conference, however, fully accepted the principle that women should be entitled to offer them-selves for the ministry on the same terms as men. The conference agreed that women should resign on marriage, in the same way a man resigned from the ministry on entering the business world.

BRITAIN TO CUT NAVAL PROGRAM

the other powers concerned," said the premier.

The prime minister said: "I am now in a position to make a statement as to the immediate intentions of the government regarding the naval building program.

"The government's general position is that the defense of the country must be decided with two main considerations in view.

"First, the chances of defenses having to be used, and then the efficiency and economy shown in their magnitude and character.

"The government has kept in view the charges in policy and in the problem of national security as affected by the peace pact if that pact is to be made an effective influence in international relations.

IS CHIEF AIM

"To make it so is the controlling purpose of the government and a systematic policy is being developed which will take a little time to complete."

"It is well known that in the midst of multifarious concerns which the formation of a new government entailed and the specially pressing and complicated nature of our task, conversations have been actively carried between the United States and ourselves for the purpose of opening the way for agreement in naval matters which hitherto have defied settlement.

"By happy coincidence out assumption of office corresponded in time the arrival in this country of the new American ambassador, General Dawes, who came to this country charged by the president of the United States with a mission to prepare the ground for an international agreement for reduction and limitation of naval armaments.

"Already the whole field of these differences with the United States has been surveyed and the two governments have made a fresh start in their solution.

"We have agreed upon the principle of parity. We have agreed that without in any way departing from the conditions of parity, a measure of elasticity can be allowed so as to meet the requirements of the two nations."

PUBLIC ISSUES FIRST

"We have determined that we shall not allow technical points to override great public issues involved in our being able to come to a settlement, and so soon as the rising of this house releases me from its day to day work I propose to make the matter my chief concern until an issue is reached.

"A visit to the president of the United States now is a subject of conversation so that it may take place when it will be most helpful to promote the cordial relations of the countries and in particular to advance the ends of disarmament and peace which we hold in common."

"It has to be fitted in with certain international conferences but October at present seems a likely month."

Turning again to the military question, Mr. MacDonald said:

"A committee to coordinate the three services for the purposes of cabinet consideration has been set up, but as that coordination is not comprehensive enough to meet requirements of state policy, the foreign office is also represented upon our work in the hands of this committee."

"The general outlook is such as to justify a review of our own program. Our predecessors did this

WORLD FAMOUS BUILDINGS REPRODUCED IN MODELS

Blackpool, England—(AP)—Six hundred miniatures of the famous buildings of the world, fashioned to scale out of intricate bits of fretwork, are the unique collection in which Richard Old has devoted 32 years of artistic devotion.

Old's most intricate model is a miniature of Milan cathedral. In its construction he had to piece together more than 8,000 bits of delicate fretwork. In this instance, he used white holly; for other models he has employed red myrtle, sycamore, mahogany, orange wood and lime.

Other famous buildings represented in the collection include Ulm Cathedral, Wurtemberg, St. Paul's London and the Chartreuse monastery (which took Old 4 1/2 years to assemble).

Travelers who view Old's collection are surprised to hear that he never has been outside of England. He was born at Staithes, Yorkshire, and learned all he knows about foreign architecture from photographs and architects' drawings.

from time to time as the outlook brightened.

"Therefore after a thorough examination of the naval position and not only as proof our own sincerity but as a duty imposed upon us with regard to expenditure of national money, we have decided as follows:

"To suspend all work on cruisers, Surrey and Northumberland, to cancel construction of the submarine depot ship Maidstone, to cancel the two contracted submarines, and to slow down dockyard work on other naval construction."

"As to the 1929-30 naval program, in any case no commitments would have been entered into before the autumn and no steps will be taken to proceed with the program until the matter has received further consideration."

REPUBLICANISM IS UNDER SCRUTINY IN LONE STAR STATE

Irregularities in Distribution of Patronage Is Suspected

Dallas — (P) — The Texas Republicanism that helped to break a solid south of democracy last fall again is under national political scrutiny, this time for alleged irregularities in its distribution of patronage.

Reported office-buying by donations to campaign funds is under investigation by the patronage committee of the United States senate. Iowa's Republican senator, Smith W. Brookhart, the committee's chairman, expects to "investigate startling new evidence" in further hearings to be held soon.

Attacks against Texas Republican leaders have been made by witnesses in hearings already held in San Antonio and Dallas. Five instances of alleged office-buying by campaign donations were mentioned in that testimony.

R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman from Texas, who has been at odds several times with other Lone Star Republicans, was criticized for his administration of patronage. So were Eugene Nolte, chairman of the state's Republican executive committee; Orville Bullington, vice-chairman, and Leonard Withington, committee director of organization.

Two officials appointed by Texas Republican powers likewise have been under fire. They are John D. Hartman, federal district attorney at San Antonio, and Roy Campbell, Laredo customs collector.

Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, Democratic member of the senate committee, told Campbell that "something should be done about your removal."

Purported donations to the party by Texas oil companies probably will be investigated when the senatorial probe resumes. Again the state's Republican leaders are expected to be asked to testify.

A renewed attack on a campaign fund of $100,000 now being raised by Texas Republicans likewise is expected. Creager and his lieutenant contend donations to it are voluntary, while Senator Brookhart insists that the fund "is a good reminder to office-holders whose terms are about to expire."

Milwaukee — (P) — Because they were "up to the ears in debt," Ben Rossine and his wife, Rose, both 21, stole $2,500 worth of furs from one shop here and sold them to another for a considerably smaller figure, the woman told police last night.

COURT BACKS STAND OF RESERVE BOARD

going beyond its powers in raising or lowering the discount rate at will. The decision disposes of that point and significantly adds, "It is important to note that it (the federal reserve bank) is not under any compulsion to rediscount eligible paper for the words of the federal reserve act in respect to rediscounting are wholly permissive."

BANKERS' POSITION

It will be recalled that many bankers recently took the position that when they went to the federal reserve bank to rediscount brokers' loans, the federal reserve system was really compelled to rediscount their paper. Much of the implication of the January February warning of the federal reserve board revolved around the point as to whether the federal reserve banks had the right, under the direction of the federal reserve board, to rediscount eligible paper. The decision is conclusive on that point.

But the most surprising part of the decision is contained in the paragraph in which it discussed the policy of public warning which itself was a matter of dispute and division of opinion among the members of the board last February. The court says:

"In view of such provision for detailed reports on the condition of the banks and for intercommunication between the board and the federal reserve advisory council regarding the general affairs of the reserve banking system, we think it most likely that statements as to the condition of affairs cannot be made public by the board, the council and the banks. The provisions for reports, representations and recommendations seem to imply public information and when the situation warrants it, public warning. What particular conditions may warrant is necessarily left to those clothed with responsibility for acting. Warning before taking action would seem to be a safer practice than sudden and perhaps drastic action without warning."

UP TO RESERVE BOARD

After defending the right of the federal reserve bank to sell its securities in the open market, to fix discount rates or to refuse to discount eligible paper "even though its policy may be mistaken and its judgment bad," the judges state that for the courts to undertake to review the action of the federal reserve board "would involve a cure worse than the malady" and that the federal reserve banks "under the supervision of the board must determine whether there is danger of financial stringency and whether the credit available for commerce and business is sufficient and if it proceeds in good faith through open market operations and control of discount rates to bring about a reduction of brokers' loans it commits no legal wrong."

In conclusion the decision states

that with respect to open market transactions, reviewing and determining rates of discount and similar activities the federal reserve bank is a "governmental agency under the direction of the federal reserve board," and that is Mr. Reiche were reserve bank from fixing a discount rate it would mean that the bank was unable to carry out the direction of the federal reserve board itself — a contention which the court did not accept.

The decision will be used from time to time in discussions of banking operations in America and would be used as a supplement to the February warning of the federal reserve board with respect to the uses of credit for circulation. Also those who differ from the policy of the federal reserve board may have recourse to congress to get the law changed but the court states emphatically that the board is complying with the law as it exists today.

WHY CHRYSLER CAN'T BE COPIED

For five years the motor car industry has striven unceasingly to emulate and overtake Chrysler—yet all its best efforts and most persistent ambitions to that end have fallen far short of their goal.

As time rolls on, it becomes more and more manifest that Chrysler performance can't be copied—that only Chrysler engineering and Chrysler manufacturing methods can produce Chrysler results.

Chrysler results are uncopiable because Chrysler engineering is of an entirely new school of thought, because Chrysler ingenuity is free from the hindering and hampering influence of out-dated and hide-bound traditions.

Chrysler results are uncopiable, too, because Chrysler has the great manufacturing advantage of plant equipment as new and up-to-date as the Chrysler car itself.

So Chrysler goes marching on, strengthening its leadership, maintaining a wide margin of superiority in performance—demonstrating a virile fleetness, an eager spirit, an unwavering stamina and an unruffled smoothness other cars find impossible to equal or even approximate.

THE KELLOGG TREATY

The Kellogg treaty outlawing war was formally proclaimed today at Washington by deposit with the state department of its instrument of ratification by 15 signatories. Twenty-six other nations have adhered to the treaty. Thus is put into effect the most notable attempt of the world to insure itself against war and to establish permanent peace.

This great event which has been scoffed at by the militarists and super-nationalists of some of the leading nations takes place at a moment when two of the signatories, China and Russia, are on the verge of hostilities. Its effectiveness, therefore, will have an immediate test. Notwithstanding their troops are being massed on the frontier of Manchuria, both China and Russia have given assurance that they will not violate their obligations under the Kellogg treaty. This means there will be no formal declaration of war unless the territory of either is transgressed by armed forces of the other. Thus far this has not occurred. Washington is optimistic that it will not occur and that there will be no war.

Notwithstanding the controversy rests on deep-seated differences of policy and purpose, the logic of the situation advises a solution through arbitration and peaceful measures. At the bottom it is a question of property rights touching railways built in Chinese territory by foreign capital, with political rights incidental thereto. These should be capable of adjustment and in the face of both the Kellogg treaty and the moral demand of the world, it is probable they will be adjusted.

PROMOTING PUBLIC INTEREST

Senator La Follette has essayed a commendable role in opposing the house tariff bill. Insofar as he may speak for duties especially applicable to Wisconsin industries he may be inconsistent. That is always a necessary part of the protectionist in politics. Mr. La Follette is opposed to the proposed increase in duty on sugar, along with the sliding scale compromise suggested by Senator Smoot, as being extortionate and indefensible. He says that "selfish grasping interests back of the house bill are in a more favorable strategic position today than they occupied when congress recessed on June 19th." Whether this is true or not, there is no doubt that such interests are behind the measure and are seeking to exploit the consumer for their enrichment. Mr. La Follette is altogether right in what he has to say concerning the evils of this attempted tariff revision. If it is accomplished it will be a clear surrender to special interests in the habit of employing government along with influence in high places to make money.

The Wisconsin senator also makes a good point when he says that "after dictating the terms of the farm bill and condemning the debenture plan in unmeasured terms, the president cannot, with very good grace remain neutral and silent on the tariff." We think with Mr. La Follette that it is as much the duty of the president to protect the consumer and the public against greedy interests and monopolies that work through the tariff, as the farmers, or any other class against unsound and harmful legislation. Perhaps he may exercise this obligation by veto, but he might be serving the interests of agriculture if he were to serve notice on congress in advance that he would approve a bill which increased duties reasonably on farm products only.

Mr. La Follette is promoting the public interest in his active opposition to what is equivalent to a threatened legislative steal as well as a perversion of the protective principle.

BREMEN TYPIFIES GERMANY

The new German built and owned S. S. Bremen has broken all trans-Atlantic records on her maiden trip from Cherbourg to New York. Not only did she take eight hours and 52 minutes off the previous record of the Mauretania, completing the trip in the remarkable time of four days, 17 hours and 42 minutes, but she made by far the fastest single day's run of 713 miles and appears to have outclassed all ships in the matter of smoothness, lack of engine vibration, rolling, etc. Her average speed was thirty-three miles per hour for the entire trip, which approaches the speed of the ordinary express train in the United States. She is without doubt the most luxurious, complete and novel steamship ever built. Probably she is the most seaworthy. She contains many facilities and attractions hitherto unknown to ocean travel. Her lifeboats are launched from tracks and she is a veritable modern city on water.

Notwithstanding keen rivalry between France, Italy, Germany and the United States for trans-Atlantic commerce, the world must applaud this new product of German ingenuity, skill and resolution. It is a greater thing these days to have a queen of the seas than a king of the air. Aviation is still in its infancy and a crude state. For a good many years to come the world will depend upon the train and the steamship for transportation. In the development of world commerce a merchant marine is of the greatest importance. That is why this performance of the Bremen is of so much significance and appeals so greatly to the imagination.

The Bremen typifies a new Germany. She is something more than the world's fastest and greatest ocean greyhound. She is a symbol of a reborn and reconstructed nation. She represents a country which has come back from the very depths of darkness and despair. She heralds the determination and resourcefulness of a people that refuses to be submerged and that is determined not only to achieve prosperity and progress for its ends, but to occupy a high place in international affairs.

The Bremen flies the flag of an undaunted race which in ten years after a war for which its government was blamed with more or less justice, has regained general respect, confidence and good will. Other peoples have differentiated sharply between this people and the militaristic government of the mad and unfit Hohenzollerns, just as did Woodrow Wilson. They have been quick to extend the hand of fellowship and welcome a re-made Germany back into the family of nations.

What Germany has done and is doing has been under a republic. This adds to its impressiveness and meaning everywhere. It is a confirmation of free government and free institutions. The Bremen will be eclipsed by other steamships, possibly even in the near future by those now being designed in Europe and the United States, but this does not dim the lustre of her performance, the credit due her designers and builders and all that she proclaims of the Fatherland.

TRAVEL RECORD

The record for "commuter travel" is said to be held by H. S. Chapman of Katonah, N. Y. Every business day since 1890 he has traveled back and forth on New York Central trains, covering 92 miles a day and averaging 291 trips a year. His total for 39 years figures up to more than 1,000,000 miles.

During this period Mr. Chapman has missed his train twice. He must have a loyal, early-rising wife. Or maybe he is just a natural born commuter and train-catcher.

Perhaps Mr. Chapman is the most traveled man in the world, as far as miles are concerned. In an age of record-making, that seems important. It may be more important what a traveler sees in covering a million miles—and still more, what he thinks.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York—A broker some months ago was sitting at his desk, overlooking the sun-swept waters of the bay out beyond the Battery. As he fingered idly a balance sheet handed him a few minutes before by his secretary, it was evident that some problem marred the contentment with which he had lately contemplated the luxurious appointments about him.

It had, he reflected, been a very satisfactory year. He had spent long hours, it was true, buying and selling in a market that had never failed him.

But now—he looked at the sheet again to confirm the total of his profits—now he could well afford the apartment his wife had selected only yesterday and for which the lease already had been signed.

SURPRISE GIFT

Ah, there was an answer to his puzzle. He had wondered by what sign of their recent prosperity he could let his wife know how much he appreciated the loneliness in which, uncomplainingly, she had sat down to dinner night after night while he was kept late at the office.

She had about everything she wanted, diamonds, furs, a car. But still her patience was worthy of some gift. Perhaps a piece of furniture for the new home would compensate for those lonely evenings.

So that afternoon he stopped at a small furniture shop on a side street near his office. He had never heard of it before, but in the window was a chair lounge that caught his fancy.

Once inside, however, the broker was undecided. After pricing the piece, it occurred to him that maybe the little woman would, after all, prefer a check. He made some vague excuse, therefore, and walked out. But not before he had left his name and address with the salesman.

The next evening he had forgotten even the check he had intended to write, when his wife greeted him with the news that a chair lounge had been delivered during the day.

"What?" he exclaimed, and then cannily, "I hope you didn't sign anything."

"Only the express receipt," she said.

"Let me see it," the husband asked, and, as he feared, it proved to be an agreement to pay $300.

SHYSTER VS. SHYSTER

The next morning the angry broker called his lawyer. The barrister was sorry, but such cases were not in keeping with his usual practice. He knew, however, an obscure attorney who might take it. The second lawyer said: "Okay, Mr. Bond; just leave it to me."

The broker did, giving no thought to it until two months later he received a bill from the lawyer, whom he immediately got on the wire.

"What does this mean?" he said.

"Oh, why the case," the attorney replied.

"Why, I didn't even know it came to trial."

"Well," said the other, "you see, I anticipated perjured testimony from the other side. So I sent my clerk to court as your butler and my stenographer as your wife's maid, and—"

"Yes?" said the broker anxiously.

"—and they both testified they saw the furniture delivered and your wife pay for it with cash."

Today's Anniversary

SETTLEMENT OF DETROIT

Sieur De La Mothe Cadillac, first commandant of the French territory around Lake Michigan, made the permanent settlement of the site of Detroit on July 24, 1701.

Detroit, however, had been visited by Frenchmen as far back as 1643, but history dates its founding on the day Cadillac arrived and built Fort Pontchartrain and established a small trading station.

In 1760, an English force under Major Rogers drove the Frenchmen out. In 1778, a new fort was built. At this time, Detroit numbered 300 living in rude log cabins.

At the end of the Revolutionary War, Detroit passed into the hands of the Americans. However, the English flag again ruled over Detroit for a few months during the War of 1812 when General Hull surrendered the post to a British force under General Brock. It was returned to the Americans in 1813.

Detroit was incorporated as a town in 1802. In recent years, Detroit has passed the million mark in population.

THE CRAVING FOR NARCOTICS

A reader sends in a pretty good sermon:

"I am certainly thankful our paper offers readers the opportunity of health advice. My case is not one of ill health but a victim of alcohol."

"My husband is a character a good, honest, intelligent and industrious man. Up until a year or two ago he had no bad habits. Then suddenly, it seemed, he started drinking, and at times the children's lives as well as my own were in danger. He seems to just get mad, can't be reasoned with, and he is now at the point where he needs all of the good money he earns, yet he leaves the children and myself to get along the best we can without sufficient means. When sober he is good to us and feels guilty, but the call of alcohol is too strong for him and he indulges."

"Isn't there anything that can be given to him to cure this terrible habit without his knowledge? I don't believe he could be sufficiently influenced to take anything for the cure."

"Signed MRS. ...."

The narcotic craving usually acts like that. A large part of the "wet" propaganda of the day is produced by just such men as this unfortunate woman describes.

You can't reason with a person who is a narcotic habitue. When he has his narcotic (be it alcohol or other drug) he feels superior to your arguments or pleas and he resents your absurd notion that he needs treatment or assistance of any kind. He "can take it or let it alone." And when he is unable to get the narcotic at the time he wants it, he is impatient of all considerations of common sense, decency, honor, duty or love of family. The alcoholic habitue is a dangerous man when his drug is withheld beyond the customary time; perhaps not so dangerous as the cocaine habitue, but dangerous enough.

Unless the boy or girl about to take the first taste of something from a hip flask or something mixed with ginger ale has an actual streak or taint of degeneracy in his or her constitution or inheritance, it would seem that better instruction about the action of narcotics, in elementary physiology, might have a deterrent effect. At least the quaint practice of calling alcohol a "stimulant" ought to be discarded. Any one who craves or seeks alcohol in any form wants it to numb feelings or sensibilities, scruples or fears.

The periodic drinker is notoriously the hardest to cure. But if the drunkard really wishes to be freed from his ruinous craving, a course of medical treatment will surely help him to make the grade and become a real man. This involves no secret quackery; any reputable physician anywhere can administer the treatment, provided the patient will submit himself to hospital care for three weeks or to the care of a capable nurse or attendant at home. One method of treatment I have in mind was given to the medical profession 20 years ago; I am glad to refer any physician to the original details, but I can not give any further

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Souring Milk

Can you procure sour milk from milk that has been pasteurized or sterilized (R. E.)

Answer—Pasteurization is the process in which milk is heated up to about 145 degrees F. and held at that temperature perhaps 20 minutes, then cooled again. This is sufficient to kill off all disease germs that may be in the milk, but it does not kill off all the lactic bacilli which are naturally present in milk. On standing in a warm place the milk will sour (fermentation of lactose, the sugar of milk, into lactic acid, by the lactic bacilli), but this souring is slower in pasteurized milk than it is raw milk. Sterilized milk is milk that has been boiled five minutes or more. Such milk is still slower to sour, unless a bit of sour milk or raw milk is added to replenish the lactic bacterial content. If you are using any artificial means to sour the milk, such as Bulgarian culture or acidophilus culture, it is better to sterilize the milk first, then add the culture at luke warmth. For natural souring raw milk is best if you are sure the milk is a pure article.

IT IS an Old Spanish Custom
 I purchased a bottle of pure tincture of iodine and I find the bottle is labelled poison. I thought perhaps I had the wrong iodine. Or is all iodine poisonous if taken in large doses? (K. W. E.)

Answer—Tincture of iodine is the right iodine. All iodine is poisonous if you take enough at once, but every druggist sells various other things without a poison label that will do a more workmanlike job than iodine if you want to poison anybody. This practice of clapping the poison label on tincture of iodine is just an old Spanish custom.

May Eat and Again May Not
 Would you please furnish me with a complete list of foods which persons with high blood pressure may eat also a complete list which they may not eat. (P. L.)

Answer—Of course no such list is possible except in downright quackery. Only the patient's own physician is in a position to advise about the diet. That the patient has high blood pressure is interesting, perhaps, but it doesn't tell him what all him.

BARBS

We are all born free and equal, according to the constitution, and some of us remain equal.

A city in Kansas does not levy or collect taxes. Some towns ought to pay the people a little something to live in them.

Some day some great hero is going to set up an endurance record for minding one's own business and that will be news.

Admiral Magruder has got his old job in the navy back after being laid off for two years because he criticized for a few things in the department. Wish we could get a nice vacation that easily.

While Mr. Mellon was fixing up our money why didn't he think of issuing a new $198 bill? It would have been so handy during the summer bargain sales.

We will not believe the country is coming back to normalcy until the stories of trans-Atlantic flights begin to be carried on page 2.

FLASHES FROM HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—Herewith nominated for the Hollywood hall of fame is Bela Lugosi. You know him better, perhaps as "Dracula"—so fixedly has the Hungarian stage actor become associated with the gruesome vampire role.

About two years ago a young fellow flew across lots of water, through lots of air and landed on a field near Paris to be greeted by a cheering thousands. "I am Charles Lindbergh," he said.

Well, most Hollywood actors, no matter how sincerely modest they are, are not Charles Lindberghs. Somehow they expect people to know them. But Bela Lugosi, when a mere reporter was presented to him, said: "My name's Lugosi. How are you?"

LARGER, PLEASE!

As if that were really news! So clear out a niche. But more—

"Interlock!" draws Director Tod Browning, "Everybody quiet!"

Lugosi begins his lines in that pronounced foreign accent of his. Cold cutting interrogation—Bela is a detective in "The Thirteenth Chair." He is quizzing Moon Carroll, fresh from the stage. She replies . . . the dialog waxes warm. . . .

Then Browning waves his arms. For the third time the scene is spoiled. Someone has slipped on the lines. "Tis Moon, accuses Tod impersonally, patiently, inoffensively. Moon acknowledges guilt, prettily, laughing.

"But it was my fault!" insists Lugosi, unperturbed, suave, gallant. Quick—carve the niche wider!

"BUT A GOOD CIGAR"

George Jessel, musical stage star, confesses to having smoked cigars since he was 10. At that tender age he began on 5-cent brands. Now while he averages between 15 and 20 a day, he believes he smokes the same kind. . . . only pays more.

Winfield Sheehan, Fox executive, doesn't like to see George Smoke, at least not in pictures. So George will have to do his smoking outside the camera's range.

But he will not be alone in suffering. Ernest Lubitsch, the German director, likewise is martyr to his art. His weakness is for big, black cigars. Unfortunately, he works at a studio where the "No Smoking" mandate for sound stages is rigidly enforced (it is Paramount, which already has lost a brand-new talkie temple to fire.) Lubitsch works uncomfortable, and when the desire for cigar fumes threatens to overcome him he paces, paces, paces.

KELLOGG PACT IS PUT INTO EFFECT TODAY

Hoover Pays Tribute to Kellogg and Briand at White House Ceremony

Articles of the treaty and an enumeration of the nations that have become parties to it either as original signatories or as adherents.

ADDRESS IN FULL President Hoover in proclaiming the bringing into force today of the Kellogg-Briand treaty said:

"In April 1928 as a result of discussions between our secretary of state of the United States and the minister of foreign affairs of France, the president directed Secretary Kellogg to propose to the nations of the world that they should enter into a binding agreement as follows:

"Article 1—The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

"Article 2—The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

"That was a proposal to the conscience and idealism of civilized nations. It suggested a new step in international law, rich with meaning, pregnant with new ideas in the conduct of world from which there is instant appeal to the public opinion of the world as to specific acts and deeds.

MAGNIFICENT RESPONSE "The magnificent response of the world to these proposals is well indicated by those now signatory to its provisions. Under the terms of the treaty there have been deposited in Washington the ratifications of the 15 signatory nations—that is, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, India, Irish Free State, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Union of South Africa, and the United States of America.

"Beyond this the treaty has today become effective also with respect to 31 other countries, the governments of which have deposited with the United States instruments evidencing their definite adherence to the treaty. These countries are: Afghanistan, Albania, Austria, Bulgaria, China, Cuba, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Egypt, Estonia, Ethiopia, Finland, Guatemala, Hungary, Iceland, Latvia, Liberia, Lithuania, the Netherlands, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Portugal, Peru, Rumania, Russia, Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, Siam, Spain, Sweden and Turkey.

"Moreover, according to information received through diplomatic channels, the instruments of definite adherence of Greece, Honduras, Persia, Switzerland and Venezuela have been fully completed according to their constitutional methods and are now on the way to Washington for deposit.

CONGRATULATES GROUP "I congratulate this assembly, the states it represents, and indeed, the entire world upon the coming into force of this additional instrument of humane endeavor to do away with war as an instrument of national policy and to obtain by pacific means alone the settlement of international disputes.

"I am glad of this opportunity to pay merited tribute to the two statesmen whose names the world has properly adopted in its designation of this treaty. To Aristide Briand, minister of foreign affairs of France, we owe the inception of the treaty and to his zeal is due a very large share of the success which attended the subsequent negotiations. To Frank B. Kellogg, then secretary of state of the United States, we owe its expansion to the proportions of a treaty open to the entire world and destined, as I most confidently hope, shortly to include among its parties every country of the world.

"Mr. Stimson has sent forward today a message of felicitation to Mr. Briand and to the people of France for whom he speaks. I am happy Mr. Kellogg, to extend to you, who represented the people of the United States with such untiring devotion and with such a high degree of diplomatic skill in the negotiations of this treaty, their everlasting gratitude.

PRaises COOLIDGE "We are honored here by the presence of President Coolidge under whose administration this great step in world peace was initiated. Under his authority, you, Mr. Kellogg, succeeded in this great service. And I wish to mark also the high appreciation in which we hold Senators Borah and Swanson for their leadership during its confirmation in the senate.

"May I ask you who represent governments which have accepted this treaty, now a part of their supreme law and their most sacred obligations, to convey to them the high appreciation of the government of the United States that through their cordial collaboration an act so auspicious for the future happiness of mankind has now been consummated. I have predicted that the influence of the treaty for the renunciation of war will be felt in a large proportion of all future international acts. The magnificent opportunity and the compelling duty now open to us should spur us on to the fulfillment of every opportunity that is calculated to implement this

U.S. makes Dollars SMALLER PLUMOUTH makes them LARGER

IN WASHINGTON, the government presses are turning out smaller dollar bills. In Detroit, the huge Plymouth plant, largest of its kind in the world, is turning out a motor car that makes the dollar bigger in purchasing power than it ever was.

Not in all automobile history has another such value appeared in the low-priced field.

There has never been another low-priced car to compare with the improved Plymouth in full-size roominess—in Chrysler-designed stylishness—in Chrysler-like briskness and smoothness—in ruggedness of construction—in safety—in all-around quality and ability.

Big body, big engine, big chassis, big axles, big 4-75 tires, big internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—in every respect, Plymouth is the biggest thing in its class. Compare—you'll be astonished how big in value Plymouth has made the dollar.

AID IS SENT ISLAND FOR MEMORY'S SAKE

Washington—(AP)—In remembrance of a friendship that has existed since the American revolution that American Red Cross has sent monetary assistance to "Stacia," a little island in the Dutch West Indies. From this island the first cannon salute to the flag of the United States was fired. Without wireless or cables, and touched only occasionally by small sailing vessels, the island has been completely cut off from the outside world since $10,000 damage was done by the hurricane which visited the West Indies last fall. An American visiting in Stacia wrote the Washington Red Cross of the need of some of the 1,000 inhabitants and a sum of money was sent through the Netherlands Red Cross. During the revolution the island, which was taken a prosperous settlement known as "Golden Rock," furnished the Americans with valuable stores and ammunition until in 1781 Admiral Rodney of the British navy swooped down and captured 200 merchant ships, half a dozen men of war and stores. With the surrender at Yorktown, however, it is reported that the first cannon salute to the flag of the United States was fired from the little island.

WHOLE SOME DIET AID TO HEALTH

A Little Sugar Helps Us Enjoy the Foods We Need

The public should know the truths about food and diet as they are related to health. The latest medical opinion emphasizes that we need varied foods and balanced foods, including milk, cereals, vegetables, fruits and meats. It isn't enough to eat one or two kinds of foods, and it isn't wise to eliminate any important food from the diet.

As every woman responsible for feeding a household knows, taste is the controlling factor in getting women, children or men to eat foods that are sufficiently varied. This is exactly where sugar comes into the picture, for, as has been pointed out, sugar is the greatest condiment found in the world. A little sugar develops the flavors of healthful cereals. A sprinkling of sugar makes currants, blackberries and other fresh fruits highly enjoyable. A group of women cooking experts recently uncovered the old secret that a dash of sugar in vegetables while they are cooking brings out new and enjoyable flavors. Good cooks know how to use a little sugar to develop the flavors of roasts and other delectable meat dishes. Correct amounts of sugar used in milk desserts help children and adults eat enough milk. The most enjoyable meal is the one that is topped off with stewed fruit, ice cream, cake or candy desserts. Help adults and children to eat varied foods. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

ALMOST as well as she knew the Rosses, Tony Tarver had known the Purvis family. For the Purvises, before the death of the husband and father, had been the aristocrats of Myrtle Street. It had been something for other Myrtle Streeters—wives and children of ordinary working-men—to brag about, that the Henry Purvis family still lived there. For Henry Purvis had been owner of a big wholesale produce house, and could have lived almost anywhere he chose—not on unfashionable, shabby Myrtle Street. But he had lived there and reared his children there, and died there, and after his death it had been discovered that the Purvis wealth was practically non-existent. For years now, poor, faded little Mrs. Purvis had been making a bare living by running a fruit and vegetable store at the end of Myrtle Street. Her daughter had been swallowed up by Chicago and her son, Bill, with whom Tony and Sandy had played and quarreled and fought through elementary school and grammar school, had dashed his mother's fine hopes for him by running away to join the Marines.

"Mrs. Purvis! Sandy! What in the world is the matter?" Tony demanded fearfully.

The thin, old-looking little woman turned her grief-stricken face and started then ran toward Tony, her trembling hands outstretched pitifully.

"You'll beg him to take me, won't you, Tony? Sandy would always do anything you wanted him to, and so would Bill."

"But what do you want Sandy to do, Mrs. Purvis?" Tony interrupted gently.

"Bill's sick, Nicaragua. She wants to fly to him," Sandy explained in his usual lachrymose fashion.

"Bill's dying!" Mrs. Purvis gasped. "Look! Here's the radiogram I got today. It says—oh, my!—oh, my! Think of it!"

Tony took the radiogram mechanically, forced her dazed eyes to read it. It was very official, signed by Bill Purvis' captain, and it notified Mrs. Purvis that "little hope is entertained for the recovery of your son, William Pierce Purvis, stricken with typhus." And it was dated: "Managua, Nicaragua."

"But—Bill can't—die," Tony said slowly, not realizing what she was saying.

"He won't die if I can get to him!" Mrs. Purvis almost screamed.

"Where is—Nicaragua, Sandy?" Tony asked like a bewildered child. "Is it—far, Sandy?"

"About 2,500 miles from here, air route, if there is any," Sandy answered, his lean, tanned face twitching nervously. "Don't think you could stand the trip, Mrs. Purvis. My plane isn't very comfortable."

"Comfortable!" Mrs. Purvis shrieked. "I'd crawl on my hands and knees to get to Bill, and you talk about being comfortable! I tell you I can stand it, and if it's money you want—"

"Haven't mentioned money, have I?" Sandy retorted grimly. "If I make the flight, it'll be for you and Bill—"

"Sandy!" Tony cried. "Do you

SOCIETY SHOWS INTEREST IN PASSE HORSE

Washington—(AP)—Society is taking to the horse once more—now that automobiles are becoming so common and within reach of almost any pocket book.

Old Dobbin is a luxury. It costs something to keep a horse in the city these days: $50 a month for board besides the cost of a groom. The horse is distinctive now where once he was passe.

Smart army and society circles bringing horses back into fashion. Leading women of the capital society set the pace for other cities, especially those which are near cavalry or artillery posts.

Riding schools for women relatives of officers and enlisted men are maintained at all the principal cavalry and artillery posts of the country. Hundreds of army women are learning to ride under the best army instructors. The women's class at Fort Benning, Ga., numbers 125. One of the best schools is at Fort Leavenworth, where both women and children are included in the classes.

Mrs. H. D. Chamberlin of Fort Riley, wife of the captain of the army's horse show teams, not only is an expert rider but she trains polo ponies. Mrs. Paul Feibiger, known throughout the army as "Polly Richmond," her maiden name, weighs only 90 pounds. Her expert handling of Dynamite, a big white cavalry mount, has won her much admiration.

INDIAN WOMAN'S GOLD AIDS BOTH RED AND WHITE

Miami, Okla.—(AP)—Much of one Quapaw Indian's mineral wealth goes to charitable causes. And Mrs. Sarah Staton Corbett is a philanthropist to white people as well as her own tribesmen.

She was made wealthy by lead and zinc mines inherited from her parents. Another $1,000,000 has been added to her riches recently by the sale of 200 acres in the Tri-State mining belt.

Mrs. Corbett's latest donation provided Miami's American Legion post a suite of palatial club rooms.

know what you're saying? You can't fly to Nicaragua—2,500 miles!" "Can try," Sandy interrupted. "Reckon that's what planes are for—to fly in. Take me a couple hours to get ready, Mrs. Purvis. Now listen—"

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran

THE Tynmites ran up over a hill as Clowdy panted. "What a thrill we'd have if we could catch that train. I hope it comes nearby. Of course our run may be in vain, but worth it for what we may gain. I still can see the engine smoke go floating toward the sky."

"Let's pick up speed. We're running slow. Come on, you Tynmites, let's go! I'm going to run away from you unless you travel fast." The others three then raced a bit, and Clowdy nearly had a fit. He thought that he was showing speed, but they all raced right by.

"Ha, ha," the others laughed aloud. "Sometimes you seem a bit too proud. It's your turn now to catch us. We'll leave you far behind." "Oh, no you won't," brave Clowdy cried. "If funny tricks like that are tried, I'll let you all run out of sight, and shucks, I will not mind."

But then the race came to a stop. They reached a bank and had to drop down on some little railroad tracks. They made it safe and sound. "I hope these are the tracks," he said. "I still can hear it coming. Say, I wonder where it's bound."

"Oh, what do we care where it goes?" was Scouty answered. "Goodness knows that it will be a lot of fun to ride it anyway. The engineer can do the work and we'll just sit around and shirk. Why, when I think of such a ride I want to shout 'Hurrah!'"

Then round the bend the big train came. The smokestack puffed up smoke and flame. "Don't hop the front," cried Scouty. "Some place better we will find. They all stood back a little while. They all stood back a little while."

Then Clowdy, with a merry smile, said, "Hurry now! This is our chance. We'll all hop on behind."

(What a surprise the Tynmites get in the next story)

BABIES REGAIN HEALTH ABOARD HOSPITAL BOAT

BY ADELAIDE KERR

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

New York—(AP)—While New York swelters these July days, a boat with a cargo of babies—the floating hospital of St. John's guild—daily pulls out from its East river pier and sails for the cool breezes off Sandy Hook.

All day hospital work goes on, but as soon as each child has been treated he is free to scamper down to the lower deck, where a physical instructor guides his play. Quilts, baf-ball, leapfrog fill the rest of his day, broken only by salt water baths and luncheon.

The boat docks at 5 o'clock with its cargo of mothers and children, who have been, as one newboy put it, "on the only vacation they ever had since they were born."

POPULARITY OF PAJAMAS IS PREDICTED

Boston—(AP)—Trousers for women are becoming an ally of the cotton industry in a fashion world which has continuously decreed short skirts during the past few years.

Beach pajamas, overalls and trousers cut sailor fashion with a pirate sash are the 1929 mode in the evolution of trousers which began with the bloomers worn by the dashing few during the bicycle craze.

So widespread is the use of such garb becoming that the style advisory board of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers suggests, in its monthly report issued today, that women throughout the country will don pajamas for house wear, and even porch and lawn use, within a year.

Many of them were in black and those who weren't showed a conservative restraint in their choice of small prints, sophisticated hats and a studied casualness that must be costly to be chic.

TRADITIONS TUMBLE AT BIG PARIS RACE

BY DIANA MERWIN

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris—(AP)—Two more traditions tell by the wayside at the Drags, dressiest horse race of the Paris calendar.

First and worst, no "drags," or tallboys from which the race takes its name, wound their way from the heart of Paris through the Bois de Boulogne to Longchamps. For years and years the tallboys, bearing Paris' prettiest and best dressed feminine race fans, driven by the men most prominent in horse racing, have gone to the Drags. But this year motors replaced the careening horse drawn coaches.

Secondly, the smartest society women left the gay gowns and frills to the professional mannequins and appeared in the kind of clothes they would wear for lunch at Ciro's or tea at the Bagatelle.

Many of them were in black and those who weren't showed a conservative restraint in their choice of small prints, sophisticated hats and a studied casualness that must be costly to be chic.

SHOCKING PRISON CONDITIONS FOUND IN NEW YORK CITY

High Percentage of Prisoners Physically or Mentally Deficient

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1929, By Cons. Press
New York—In making its first tentative move toward the establishment of a crime laboratory, somewhat similar to that maintained by Chicago, the city of New York has revealed shocking conditions under the largest and most expensive prison system in the world.

As state officials today began an investigation to learn the cause of the uprising of 1,300 criminals at Clinton prison at Dannemora, the city was awakened to the need of a thorough study of conditions in its own penal institutions. Sixty per cent of the 10,800 prisoners sent to the penitentiary on Welfare Island last year were either physically or mentally incapacitated. There were 3,443 prisoners serving their second term and 1,587 serving their third term, with the figures ranging downward to four prisoners serving from their fifty-fourth to their sixty-fifth terms.

The prison next highest in the proportion of diseased and insane is the Delaware state prison, with a percentage of 15. Other prisons in the United States range around 4 and 5 per cent. The disparity between this percentage and the 60 per cent in New York tells the story of using jails for dumping grounds for the obviously insane and incompetent, with no scientific or humane segregation and with no facilities for curative treatment.

Institutional records for 1928 show penitentiary sentences for 1,559 congenital alcoholics, 1,256 drug addicts, 267 crippled, 317 persons of unsound mind, 146 suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis, 39 blind, 19 deaf and dumb, 35 epileptics, 599 suffering from abrasions and contusions, 337 cases of senility and sufferers from a half dozen other afflictions, some of them congenital and obviously resistant to any such correctives as jail sentences. So far as available records show, Welfare Island is the only prison where the deaf, dumb and blind, dipsomaniacs, drug addicts and cripples are sent.

HOSPITALS LACKING
While the lack of segregation appears as a basic cause, the state lacks adequate hospital facilities, with its few institutions overcrowded and insufficiently staffed and financed. Having no place to send these unfortunates, it has become routine court procedure to sentence them to the penitentiary, where, as shown by the above figures, some of the neediest go back as many as 65 times.

Richard C. Patterson, Jr., commissioner of corrections has appealed to the city for an appropriation of $153,200 to form a committee of expert psychiatrists and psychologists to begin a study upon which a systematic segregation can be based, with the objective of providing curative and preventive as well as punitive facilities.

INFORMATION LACKING
"The entire system shows an appalling lack of scientific information and facilities," said Mr. Fishman. "The blame cannot be laid on any particular person, but the fact is that, under the present conditions, the courts can do nothing except use the jail as a dumping ground for these hopeless and unfit."

"The only explanation of this condition is the largest, and in many ways the most progressive city in the world, is that the handling of the prisoners has become routine and mechanical. It is made worse by sentences of three days, which keep the courts cluttered up with petty cases. The routine of fingerprinting and transferring the prisoners may take up most of the sentence and when he arrives at the prison he is ready for release, with another trip to the go through. The entire system is a defeat of all that tries to do."

A tentative approach, such as that suggested by a committee of psychoanalysts is, in my opinion, the first step toward relief. While the money requested is not adequate for permanent or large scale investigation, it is a beginning and it will enable the city intelligently to face the next step, in continued and systematic segregation, and the establishment of hospitals and farms."

COUNTY BREEDERS TO ATTEND STATE PICNIC

Practically all members of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders' association are expected to attend the annual state Holstein breeders' picnic at Washington Island, eight miles off the north point of Doorco, on Friday, according to Ed Mueller, secretary of the association, and Gus Sell, county agent. Every farmer of this island, and there are more than 100, raises Holstein cattle and this display is expected to be a lesson on the value of pure bred sires of good type with strong production records, according to Mr. Sell.

Features of the picnic will be addresses by Earl Cooper, extension director of the Holstein Friesian association of America; W. E. Wintermeyer, bureau of dairy industry. Four state breeders will be honored at a special recognition service. There will be sight seeing tour of the island, also.

First Picture of 100-Passenger Plane

Here's the first picture of the world's largest air liner, built to carry 100 passengers and a crew of 12. Shown above in its hangar at Friedrichshafen, Germany, this monster Dornier hydroplane recently underwent successful trial flights over Lake Constance, Switzerland. Though it weighs 37 tons the giant craft, powered by twelve 500-horsepower motors, cleared the water in 28 seconds. The plane is three-decked, 130 feet long and 35 feet high, with a wingspread of 160 feet.

GRAIN FARMERS, LIVESTOCK MEN SEE CASH PROFIT

Poor Prospects Have Developed into Good Ones in Few Weeks

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1929, By Cons. Press
New York—Poor prospects are developing into splendid financial results so far as the grain and livestock growers of the country are concerned.

Wheat has had a sensational advance just when the farmers were in a position to sell. That means actual cash profit in the farmer's pockets provided he takes advantage of the opportunity. Corn also is following wheat up and livestock is high and likely to go higher. This means that the farmer who markets his corn in the form of meat has a profit in front of him. There is a widespread theory in agricultural circles that prices always go down when the farmer wants to sell and go up after he has sold. This year, wheat growers have a chance to sell on an advancing market. Whether they will do so or not they alone can decide. Many of them did not sell last summer until prices dropped from under them and then many could not afford to sell. This is held accountable for the huge amount of wheat from the 1928 crop still in storage.

The causes of the wheat advance, according to the conclusion today of the farm belt corn dailies, a recognized authority on midwestern conditions, are a reduced crop in Canada and some of the northwest corn spring wheat states and a reduction in some of the other surplus wheat producing countries. The price has amounted to between 50 and 60 cents above the low of the crop season and the present price is profitable.

EXPECT LOWER YIELD
The farm dailies estimate the wheat crop now at $33,869,000 bushels which compared with a final yield of 902,749,000 in 1928 and 878,374,000 in 1927. The July estimate of corn is 2,682,050,000 bushels. The price has crept up above the $1 mark. Oats sell for about half the corn price. These prices are profitable even if the grains are sold direct. If they are sold as meat they are still more profitable. Top cattle are selling at $12.60 a hundred pounds, with every prospect of a further advance as fall approaches, since the supply will not be appreciably heavier than last year.

The important relation of livestock to grain is strongly emphasized by reports on operation of Indiana farms which have been strictly kept for two years. These show that for every dollar's worth of grain fed to livestock, the farmer made a profit of 32 cents. In other words, the farmer gained a third more profits from selling his grain as meat instead of as grain.

The farms involved numbered 32 and averaged 229 acres each. Gross receipts averaged $5,914.91 per farm, of which livestock accounted for 51 per cent, crops 47.5 and miscellaneous items 1.5. The eight most profitable farms averaged a labor income of $2,574. This represents what is left for the farmer after allowing a 5 per cent interest charge on total investment and a charge for family labor. The eight least profitable farms averaged a labor income of only $134. The eight best paying farms sold an average of $3,734 of livestock and livestock products and the eight least profitable sold only $2,521 of the same products.

ASSEMBLY ANXIOUS FOR SALARY MEASURE

Madison —(AP)— Assemblymen are getting impatient about their salary raise and have asked Assemblyman John Gamper, Medford, member of the legislative committee charged with drafting a bill for the raise to present the measure Wednesday if it is drawn up. He said he thought it would be by that time. Speaker Charles B. Perry issued instructions that the bill should come in despite the hope of some that it might be held up a while.

ORATOR F. WOODWARD GETS DIVORCE DECREE

New York —(AP)— Orator Francis Woodward, millionaire manufacturer of gelatine food products, has obtained a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Persis Woodward, Mr. Woodward's attorneys have announced.

In continuing the report, Mrs. Woodward revealed that the divorce was granted in Nogales, Mexico. A divorce suit, filed by Mr. Woodward in Rockland Co., N. Y., has been abandoned. Under the terms of the decree Mr. and Mrs. Woodward will share the custody of their two children, Ruth, 12, and Orator, Jr., 9.

The estrangement of the Woodwards was first brought to public notice in January, when Mr. Woodward "kidnaped" the two children who had been living with their mother in Paris. He recently hurried them aboard a liner bound for New York but before the liner reached America, Mrs. Woodward's mother, obtained a writ of habeas corpus directing that the children be returned to their mother.

Under a financial agreement, arranged in March, Mr. Woodward settled more than $1,000,000 upon his wife and created trust funds of $750,000 for each of the two children. The Woodwards were married in 1909 and lived together until 1920.

FOREST BILL IS SIGNED BY KOHLER

Measure Permits Conservation Commission, Counties to Trade Land

Madison —(AP)— A bill authorizing the state conservation commission and counties of the state to exchange forest lands for other forest areas, for the purpose of blocking out state and county forests has been signed by Governor Kohler.

The purpose of the measure is to make possible the exchange of widely scattered forest areas for one or more areas in one tract. Several of the northern counties, as well as the state, have acquired parcels of land through tax delinquencies and purchase which are not contiguous to each other. By exchanging them for other lands, tracts large enough for forest preserves can be acquired. Another bill signed by the governor amends the law relating to credit unions, authorizing them to make an interest charge of 1 per cent a month, to expand the power of the board of directors, and to provide that custodians of the funds of credit unions shall be bonded.

Other bills approved by the executive provide: Certificates of descent shall be issued by the county court of the county in which the deceased lived, if he deceased was a non-resident by the county court of any county in which he left real estate. Non-residents of Milwaukee who are adjudged insane by the courts of that county shall be committed to the state hospital for the insane. In suits by the attorney general, to collect delinquent taxes from auto transportation companies, the court may issue an injunction restraining the defendant from operating his busses until the tax has been paid.

STIMSON ASKED TO RECONSIDER STAND IN DETZER DISPUTE

D. A. R. Attorney Wants Woman's Passport Revoked by State Department

Washington —(AP)— H. Ralph Burton, attorney for the D. A. R. of the American Revolution, today asked Secretary Stimson to reconsider the state department's refusal to revoke the passport recently issued to Miss Dorothy Detzer, executive secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Revocation of the passport was requested by Burton on his own initiative in the absence of D. A. R. officials from Washington on the ground that she had not sworn to "defend the constitution" but had been allowed to "affirm" to support it, which he contended was improper in view of the supreme court decision in the Rosika Schimmer naturalization case.

That request was rejected by the department with an explanation that the modified oath was considered "adequate for passport purposes, and conformed to the established practice," and Burton today made public his request for reconsideration, taking issue with several points brought out in the rejection.

To the statement that "there is no law of the United States requiring the taking of an oath of allegiance by an applicant for a passport," he replied that an executive order by President Coolidge promulgating rules requiring an oath of affirmation of allegiance issued under authority given to him in an act of congress had "the full force and effect of law."

He also took "direct and positive issue" with the statement "to the effect that an examination of the oath taken by Miss Detzer shows it to be in affirmation of allegiance to the United States." He said "allegiance has been definitely constituted by the United States Supreme court to include 'defend with arms'." Miss Detzer, he said in her correspondence with the department, asserted that she could not, "without a very distinct mental reservation, swear to support and defend the constitution if the word 'defend' the

REYNOLDS NOT DRUNK AT ACCIDENT, IS PLEA

London —(AP)— The defense of Richard Joshua Reynolds, wealthy, 22-year-old American on trial for manslaughter growing out of an automobile fatality opened today.

Noiman Birckett, representing the son of the late founder of the Reynolds Tobacco company, announced that the defense would submit that young Reynolds was not drunk or in an unfit condition to drive an automobile at the time of the accident, as the prosecution has charged.

He described the defendant as a young man of excellent character. He also declared that the four drinks of whisky which Reynolds had consumed contained alcohol, which was only the equivalent of three large whiskeys. Evidence would be presented he told the court, to show that Reynolds is perfectly sober after these drinks.

Arthur Graham, a motorcyclist, was struck by a car alleged to have been driven by young Reynolds on the night of May 14. He died three days later.

Heating of time is implied, or the "spot of war."

He also reiterated his objections to the organization with which Miss Detzer is identified. She obtained her passport to attend its impending meeting in Europe.

WISCONSIN C. O. P. DID NOT PROMISE ELECTION PROBE

Platform Contained No Pledge Of Investigation, Examination Shows

Madison —(AP)— The Republican state platform for the last election campaign did NOT contain a pledge for investigation of previous elections, as has been contended by both sides of the Republican group.

Investigation of records in the secretary of state's office revealed the platform of 1926, which was adopted on May 10, did not contain a pledge of investigation, but specifically stating that the resolution should not be a part of the platform.

The platform plank on the subject of election expenditures and practices was adopted after calling attention only to the alleged weaknesses of the act stating that some steps should be taken to remodel it, to prevent abuses.

Reference to the 1929 Blue Book of the state record periodical, revealed the lack of a call for investigation in the platform, pointed there. The view of the minutes filed with the state document then showed a resolution presented as a compromise to one by Sen. H. J. Severson, Ia., cri-

NEW LONDON NEEDS COMMERCIAL CLUB

Has No Organization for Ascertaining City's Needs

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—"What is Wrong With New London." was the subject of a talk given on Tuesday noon at the Lion service club luncheon at the Elwood hotel by W. T. Comstock, editor and manager of the New London Press-Republican. This is the first of a series of discussions scheduled by the Lions, to be given by business heads of the city on subjects tending to be helpful in bringing about better understanding of the problems of the city.

Mr. Comstock, at one time editor of a magazine featuring this same line of thought from an industrial and manufacturing viewpoint, asserted his belief that this city, with no commercial club or like organization, has no systematized manner of learning the needs of the city, or of learning the benefits of the city or that this knowledge may be passed on to industries which might be attracted here.

The speaker enumerated the advantages of the community, stressing the rich farming district as a particular advantage. Farmers, he asserted, working 80 acres, farm here, make as much money as do those of Illinois who farm much larger acreage.

NEW LONDON GIRL DIES IN ESCANABA

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—News has been received here of the death of Miss Cecile Brault, 17, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Brault of this city, which occurred at St. Francis hospital, at Escanaba, Mich., at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Miss Brault and her twin sister, Lucille, had been employed for some time in an Escanaba hospital. The funeral will be held at Coleman, Wis., on Thursday morning. Those who will attend from this city will include Mr. and Mrs. Emil Brault, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Brault, Mrs. Louis Hoffman and Miss Elizabeth Reid.

Cecile Brault was born on August 1, 1911, at Coleman. Besides her parents and twin sister, she is survived by two sisters, Miss Jane Brault, Peroria Ill., Miss Anita Brault of New London, and three brothers, Eli of the state of Oregon, Harry of Escanaba and Edward of this city.

AGED WOMAN STRUCK IN HEAD BY GOLF BALL

New London—Mrs. Marietta Graham, Oshkosh-er, who is well past the age of 80, was struck by a golf ball in the hands of a boy playing near the street. ## DISTRIBUTE YOUR INVESTMENTS IN STOCKS, BONDS

Small Investor Should Incline Toward Bonds, Hughes Advises

New York—No exact answer can be given to the question as to in what proportion investment funds should be distributed between stocks and bonds to insure adequate diversification. Something depends upon the phase of the cycle in which the purchase is made and a good deal upon the situation of the individual investor.

Perhaps as a basis on which to work we may say forty per cent in bonds, forty per cent in common stocks and twenty per cent in preferred stocks. The bonds would include mortgages and other fixed interest bearing obligations and the common stocks would, of course, be representative of as many different industries as the size of the fund would allow.

Probably also the larger the sum that could profitably be used to buy stocks. The small investor would have to be more conservative and incline to the bonds. The preferred stock is a compromise between the two classes of securities. It partakes of the nature of the bond in that it has a claim on earnings prior to that of the common stock and it partakes of the nature of the stock in that dividends are payable in the discretion of the directors.

Just now when common stocks are selling at peak prices it is not easy to make selections, but in a general way those groups should be favored which are not objects of extravagant speculation at the time the purchase is made. If it be objected that there are not such stocks at present the answer is that the odds qualify.

At the start, at least, the preference should be given to the shares of the leading unit in the industry. This is not hard to determine. For instance U. S. Steel takes that place among steel stocks and General Motors among the automobile shares. Other illustrations will suggest themselves to the reader. In bonds it would be better to take issues selling at a discount instead of those selling at a premium or around par. The discount bond has the better chance of appreciation in the event of a fall in money rates.

CITY PLAYGROUNDS POPULAR SPOTS FOR KAUKAUNA CHILDREN

Between 30 and 75 Younger People Are on Grounds Daily

Kaukauna — From 30 to 75 attend the playgrounds at the Park school and LaFollette park playgrounds daily, according to reports of the supervisors. Mrs. Thomas Clark and Miss Agnes Egan. There have been as many as 220 playing at the LaFollette playgrounds at one time. The youngsters range from 3 to 14 years of age. Only two minor accidents were reported at the playgrounds, which have been open for almost two months.

The daily program employed last year is not being followed this summer. It has been found to have a group of its own games. Different games are furnished for children of different ages. For the small children the caretakers read and tell stories.

Mothers are urged by Miss Egan to send their children to the parks. They are looked after and have clean, healthful play at the parks. The larger number of children that go to the playgrounds, the easier it is to find games for them all in their classes, according to Miss Egan. The hours are from 9 to 11:30 in the morning and from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The supervisors will be at the grounds until September.

The summer season will end with a basket picnic at the LaFollette park about the end of August. Several hundred attended the picnic last year. Children sent to the park under the age of six years should be under the care of an older child.

KAUKAUNA MEETS MARINETTE NINE

Game With Northern Foes Will Be Played on Kaw Diamond Sunday

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's next baseball foe in the Fox River Valley league is Marinette. The game will be played at the local park Sunday afternoon. The Electric City nine is trying hard to forget the Green Bay game. The only consolation they have from meeting the Bays, a game which ended in a disastrous way for the locals, is that the teams will meet again in this city Sept. 2.

During this time they will be forgotten and the other games on the remaining schedule will be the center of interest. Kaukauna is still in fourth place in the league and is determined not to go lower. They have lost the last two games.

Marinette is not loosing as a strong opponent, but the unexpected may happen. They upset the dope recently and defeated Green Bay, a team which topped Kaukauna Sunday. Manager Les Smith will have his team in such shape by Sunday that victory will not be denied, he says.

OYSTER WHITE IS POPULAR COLOR NOW

This and Lime Yellow Will Be Seen in Many Formal Dresses

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press
New York — Two colorings seem likely to be of prime importance for formal wear in the near future. They are oyster white and lime yellow. What could be more appropriate than the coupling of oyster and lime? There is distinct emphasis on white for formal evening wear but it is the off shades which are most frequently chosen. Oyster is a favored material. The greens and yellows mingle and merge in a dozen shades varied by the complexion of the wearer.

One reason why the oyster type of dress is now tremendously popular is that they seem to go excellently with nearly every type of costume for daytime wear. The fall, however, will see a reversion to the one clasp or one button type of cape skin or buckskin which go so excellently with the tailored types of dress.

Brown seems likely to be the leading shade for millinery this fall. This agrees with the dress designers' idea for the latter say that brown will be featured for street wear in day time frocks. The felts probably will outnumber the velvet hats and the shiny felts and the light very flexible felts are expected to achieve distinct success. The brims are wide at sides or back but diminutive in front.

The plain versus the fancy. That is the lingerie battle on the cards for fall. According to the best judges, the plain types seem likely to have a shade the better of it, although the fancy type does not seem likely to go down and out entirely. The colorings most seen or rather most hidden are flesh, peach, tan, egg shell, blue and green.

EQUALIZATION BOARD ADJOURNS SINE DIE

Small, Nature-Made Hole Drains Hortonville Farm

BY W. F. WINSEY
Hortonville—A hole in the ground, at the surface the size of the burrow of a woodchuck but larger below and known to be 40 feet deep, how much deeper nobody knows, located at the lowest point in the farm of A. W. Cuff, toward which the entire farm slopes, is responsible for the drainage of the entire farm.

If nature had not drilled, blasted, gouged out, or constructed this hole by these or other methods, the large part of Mr. Cuff's farm would now be a frog pond or a cattail swamp with no outlet.

But as nature in the construction of this farm drainage system exceeded all examples of man's ingenuity and skill, Mr. Cuff's farm is the best drained farm in this section of the state. One of the strangest things about the system is that while everybody knows where the intake is and can explore it with rods to the depth of forty feet, nobody knows the location of the outlet nor what becomes of the water after it leaves the surface.

Of Interest To Farmers

FERTILIZER AIDS PASTURE YIELDS
Production of Fertilized Plots From Three to Five Times Greater

Madison—Yields of grass on fertilized pasture plots at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture are three to five times greater than on unfertilized plots.

This explains the need for pasture fertilization on Wisconsin farms, says George B. Mortimer, agronomist in charge of pasture trials at the state university. Increased yield is not the only benefit derived from pasture fertilization. The quality of the grass is also improved, and chemical tests show a gain in protein and ash, fewer weeds are present, and the fertilized pasture stands more tramping in wet weather.

Fertilizer should be applied to pastures when the lime and phosphate content of the soil is too low to support a good pasture yield, says Mortimer. Good judgment is necessary in treating pastures. Steep hillside and rough elevated pastures are usually not worthy of fertilization.

Lime and phosphates are the most needed fertilizers. Lime helps keep the phosphorus in the soil available, according to Mortimer. Phosphorus applications on pastures should range from 300 to 500 pounds per acre of 20 per cent superphosphate and if potash is essential, it should be applied at the rate of 100 to 200 pounds.

Pasture grasses make wonderful responses to nitrogen treatments. It has been demonstrated that the protein content of grass can be appreciably raised by fertilizing with nitrogen, but it should be used conservatively until one is sure that benefits warrant its high cost.

A lime and fertilizer distributor are necessary for pasture fertilizing. Mortimer points out. Lime and phosphate may be applied at any time. It is best to apply nitrogen and potash in the spring. The beneficial effects of the applications are not immediately noticeable since the fertilizer must penetrate the soil thoroughly before it has its influence on the growth of plants.

WISCONSIN AMONG T. B. TEST LEADERS

Badger State Is Running Close Race With North Carolina

Madison —(AP)—Wisconsin may lead the nation in the matter of tuberculosis eradication. North Carolina has completed its area testing of cattle for "T. B." but has only about 600,000 head of cattle, while Wisconsin's three million may all be tested once and maybe twice by April 1, 1930.

The state department of agriculture made this announcement to the judges of the fine cheese and butter makers will be $3000 richer the first of September for this is the amount in prizes, besides a silver cup, donated by Governor Kohler, from the state fair, in West Allis, Aug. 26 to 31.

W. P. Jones of the state department of markets, superintendent of the fair dairy department, today announced his section of the premium book.

The total prizes are higher than during any exhibition by the state in his experience, Mr. Jones said. They include an $200 prize for one of the creamery butter sections, for creameries organized in districts having fieldmen in charge, presenting a tub (20 lb) exhibit. The second prize in this competition will be $175—higher than most of the best prizes.

Butter exhibits will be graded 10 per cent on taste, 25 per cent on body, 15 on color, ten on salt and five on package.

The Governor's cup will be for the cheese exhibitor whose cheese is judged the highest score in all classes.

American cheese judges will be A. T. Bruhn, J. W. Moore and M. A. Price, all of Madison. Fred and Gottlieb Marty, Monroe, and Jacob Lohmeyer, Madison, will judge the foreign type cheese.

The prizes in the cheese competition are generally $175.

These tests will be complete in Pierce and Vernon counties in about two weeks, Duffy said. This leaves seven—Manitowish, Oconto, Crawford, Calumet, Green, LaFayette, and Shawano—to complete.

Green county's petitions for the tests were the first to come in and Iowa county is only holding its petitions to get more signatures. The petitions have long since been filed by the other five, and testing work has been started or will be soon. When Iowa's petitions are filed every county will have either asked for the tests, been tested, been designated a "modified" area, or be undergoing its second test.

Three Teams of Boys Collect Between Four and Five Truck Loads

Neenah — Three teams composed of 63 playground boys Tuesday afternoon picked up between four and five truck loads of stones along the shore near the bathing beach in one hour's time. The Fourth ward team was third with 211 pails full.

The playground golf tournament ended Tuesday afternoon, play covering 18 holes on each ground. The difference of the score is attributed to variation in the size of the courses. At Columbian park, Ted Barnes won first with a score of 75. Milton Fuhs, 79, and Walter Hauke and Ed. Woeckner tied for third with 81. This course is the larger of the three. ### UNUSUAL BIRCH IS FOUND IN MENASHA

Owner Refuses $1,000 for Tree—Fears Transplanting Would Kill It

Menasha—An unusual birch whose only other duplicate in the twin cities or Appleton is on the property of the Rev. Best, of this city, is owned by Roy Walker, First-st. Mr. Walker was offered $1,000 for the tree but would not sell it, he says, because his mother planted it 25 years ago and he would not risk its death during transplantation for any amount.

The tree has foliage like a weeping willow drooping over its ermine-colored bark. Its split leaves are fine and thin, with toothed edges.

In Mr. Walker's garden are other unusual plants: the Ostrich plume, a bush which no botanist as yet has been able to place, and orange raspberries.

The Ostrich plume from a Texan bulb, is mauve pink and shaped like its name. It is composed of clusters and clusters of tiny petals half shrouded in feathery pink. It is the first flower of its kind ever seen here.

Two bushes bear the orange raspberries which are yellow instead of green when unripe. As for the bush which no botanist can identify—Mr. Walker is still waiting for its name to be revealed.

Three Processes Purify Menasha Drinking Water

Menasha—When Mrs. So-and-So on Racine-st pours herself a drink of water from the kitchen faucet she little realizes she is using an infinitesimal amount of the 1,800 gallons of water that the city filtration plant pumps every minute.

The three processes which make Menasha's drinking water pure are: aeration, settling and filtration. The first removes all the lake odor, the second removes dirt and gravel, and the final process kills germs.

Aeration is a pretty process: in fact so beautiful that camera fans come to the filtration plant to snap the final stage in this process. The water is pumped from the river into black, mammoth 18-inch suction lines. Alum is fed the water before it goes into the aerator. Two grains of this mineral is used to a gallon of water, or 500 pounds a day. One hundred and eighty sacks of alum which crowd the storeroom will be utilized before two months are over.

After the dark basement with its lumbering pipes, the aerator, located on the roof, startles one with its dainty beauty. Whirling water spraying from 32 nozzles makes a silver cloud bed in which drops of water hail, bounce and twirl.

The water dances off its river odor on the roof of the plant from where it descends to the settling basement.

Here is an enclosed concrete pit two feet of dirt is deposited every two months—two feet of dirt which would otherwise be contained within the citizens of Menasha. Some 900,000 gallons at a time make their progress through the settling basement which takes them eight hours.

Three hundred and fifty gallons are filtered every minute in the four filtration boxes which look like so many swimming pools. They are filtered through 18 inches of gravel and 30 inches of sand. There is a 48 hour run on the filters before a is necessary to wash the beds. A million gallons a day can be filtered by each of the four beds. Including washing water 2,400,000 gallons are pumped daily.

The plant contains a reserve tank which holds 225,000 gallons which means the plant could shut down for five hours before the city would feel a water shortage.

As an additional protection, chlorine is added to the filtered water. Four pounds of chlorine are used to 2,000,000 gallons.

There is a laboratory in which the water is tested every day. Once a month a sample is sent to the state department for examination.

ATHLETICS SPLIT TWIN BILL WHILE YANKS BEAT TIGERS

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE latest class of half millionaires in the Philadelphia Athletics led in the American league and left the Pittsburgh Pirates' margin in the National at a single percentage point.

Splitting even in a twin bill with the Cleveland Indians, the A's were forced to allow the Yankees, who beat Detroit, to crawl up a half game closer.

There was no cause for alarm in the camp of Cornelius McGillicuddy for the A's lead was ten games Wednesday, an apparently safe margin.

BUCK'S POSITION SERIOUS

Pittsburgh's position in the National league was more serious. The Pirates were trounced by Brooklyn and the battling Chicago Cubs advanced to within half a game of the top by beating the New York Giants.

Rube Walberg pitched the Athletics to victory over the Indians in the first game, 4 to 1, keeping eight alien hits well scattered. Home runs by Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane helped Walberg no end.

Disa, however, the count by scoring six runs in the ninth inning of the second game off old Jack Quinn and Yerkes, winning 9 to 3.

Wesley Ferrell held the pace-setters to seven hits, one of which was Jimmy Fox's home run over the double decked stands in left field, the second time this feat has been accomplished.

The Yankees won a free-hitting struggle from Detroit, 7 to 5. Earl Whitehall walked nine men and was touched for 7 hits and all the Yankees runs in the first six hits. Emil Yde, former Pittsburgh catcher, saw how the champions the rest of the way, but the damage had been done.

George Pipgras was hit hard, the Tigers getting ten hits, two of them homers by Harry Rice and two more triples by Gehrig.

SOX 3, WASHINGTON 2—Urban Faber and McKain allowed only four hits and Chicago beat Washington, 3 to 2. Garland Braxton blanked the Sox for the first six innings but weakened in the seventh and eighth when Chicago's runs were scored.

The St. Louis Browns pounded four Boston pitchers for 12 hits and won from the Red Sox, 11 to 4.

Elly Rittell's homer with the bases filled in the seventh was the key that enabled the Dodgers to beat the Pirates, 10 to 7. Five Pirate pitchers could not stop the Dodgers' batsmen and a costly defeat was the result.

At Chicago, Charley Root and Karl Hubbell hooked up in a pitchers' duel that found the Cubs on the long end of a 2 to 0 count at the end. Each pitcher allowed only four hits but Root was steadier in the pinches.

Bunching seven hits effectively behind the first pitching by Old Pete Alexander, the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Phillies, 8 to 2. Alexander was reached for ten hits, four going to O'Doul and three to Klein, but fanned seven men and held fast in the pinches.

Cincinnati and Boston divided a double bill, the Reds pounded Cantwell and Jones for 14 hits in the opener and won it 9 to 5. They could get only seven scattered safeties off Delaney in the nightcap, however, and the Braves won, 7 to 0.

ILLINOIS REFUSES TO LET STECHER WRESTLE

Chicago (AP)—The Illinois State Athletic commission has denied Promoter Joe Coffey permission to hold a show featuring Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion, and Joe Malacvez. The body based its ruling on the fact that the men have met three times recently at Boston, in California, and Tulsa, Okla. Coffey proposed to hold the show July 31.

Tommy Loughran Has Not Retired As Light Heavy

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright 1929

NEW YORK — The White Sox of Chicago have a right good ball player in Art Shires, first baseman. Old "Stir 'Em Up" may be boisterous and noisy at times but he will give an impression of personality no matter what his manner is. He is a little uncouth about that personal punch which he carries around with him, because the personal punch isn't much of an argument for a permanent and prosperous livelihood, but he is battling better than .310 and keeps the infield stirred up.

One year ago the White Sox outfield were made up of Hunnefeld, Glancy, Mostil, Metzler, Kamm, Falk and Redfern. The latter was on temporarily because Cissell had something the matter with him.

The Sox are playing Metzler, Shires Cissell, Reynolds, Kamm.

COLUMBUS COPS THREE STRAIGHT FROM K. C. BLUES

Herb Cobb Hit Hard but Milwaukee Downs Toledo Hens, 6-5

BY WILLIAM A. WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Columbus Senators have accomplished something no other American association team has been able to do this season—win three straight from the Kansas City Blues.

Nemo Leibold's Senators Tuesday took the odd game of the series from the pace makers, 10 to 8, marking the first time this season that the Blues have dropped three consecutive games.

St. Paul muffed a chance to pick up another game on the Blues by dropping the series final to Louisville, 9 to 4. The Colonels hammered out five runs in the first inning and added four more in the sixth, and cleaned 13 hits off Van Atta, Zumbro and Shealy. Joe Deberry yielded 11 blows but managed to keep out of serious trouble.

Minneapolis and Indianapolis put in a hard afternoon in an attempt to play a doubleheader. The Millers took the opener, 10 to 3, pounding Love, Teasdale and Spence for 13 hits. The Indians held a 9 to 2 lead until the eighth session of the second game, but sagged long enough to permit the Millers to tie the count. Darkness overcame them at the end of the twelfth with the count knotted at 9 all.

Milwaukee took the odd game of the set from Toledo, collecting four runs in the fourth for a 6 to 5 decision. Geygan produced a home run with two men on in the Brewster's big inning. Alex Ferguson went the whole route for the Mud Hens, and Herbert Cobb started and finished for Milwaukee.

AL SINGER, ROUTIS IN NON-TITLE BOUT

Mushy Callahan and Jack (Kid) Berg Feature the Semi-final Bout

New York (AP)—Fistic champions of two divisions are to exhibit their wares for the edification of New York's fight faithful at Ebbets Field Wednesday night. Both, however, are to leave their titles at home for safe keeping.

Andre Routis, of France, holder of the featherweight crown, meets Young Al Singer, Bronx flash, in the main bout of ten rounds. Singer has been staging a come-back and a successful one, since he was knocked out by Ignacio Fernandez, the Filipino, with one outpoint, the Frenchman. Routis has been beaten by Honeyboy Finnegan, Jake Zarasby and Tony Canzonetti, in non-title bouts. The Frenchman apparently does his best fighting when there is something at stake.

In the ten round semi-final, Mushy Callahan, the junior welterweight champion, engages Jack (Kid) Berg, of England, a lightweight who caught the fancy of New York's fans after he had beaten Bruce Flowers in two hectic battles.

Stanislaus Loyza, of Chile, and Joey Medill of Chicago, lightweight, are matched in the opening ten rounder.

BILL M'KECHNIE AGAIN MANAGER OF ST. LOUIS CARDS

Relieves Bill Southworth
Who Is Sent to Cardinal's Farm

St. Louis — William McKechnie, who piloted the St. Louis Cardinals to a National league championship in 1925, was recalled Tuesday by President Sam Breadon from the Rochester, International league "farm," to take over the management of the fallen Red Birds in the hope that he can put them back into the pennant race.

Billy Southworth, until Tuesday manager of the 1929 Cardinals goes back to the Rochester club as manager in the shift.

ROAD TRIP BAD

The change was made as the Cardinals returned home from one of the most disastrous road trips in recent years. They are barely in first division.

The change in managers is effective Wednesday.

McKechnie's return to St. Louis marks the fifth change in management of the Cardinal club since May, 1925, when Rogers Hornsby replaced Branch Ricker. Hornsby took over the club when it was in last place and ended the season with it in fourth place. He served again in 1926, winning his first pennant and world championship for St. Louis in thirty-eight years.

However, during the winter he was at loggerheads with Breadon and was traded to New York. Bob O'Farrell, most valuable player to his club in the league that year, became manager in 1927 and the Cards finished second. Then McKechnie, who had been O'Farrell's assistant, took over the club.

PRASED BY BREADON

"McKechnie has made good wherever he has served," Breadon said Tuesday. "I myself, took the world series of 1928 too much to heart and now realize that I have made a mistake. I still think we have the best ball club in the National League, and believe that under McKechnie we will again get into the race for the pennant."

Breadon said he had not lost faith in Southworth.

"I think," the Cardinal owner said, "that his case is just like that of a minor league ball player who has come up a year or two too early."

FOUR CHAMPIONS MEET IN AMATEUR

Two Hundred Golfers Entered as Lists Closed Tuesday Night

New York (AP)—National champions of four countries will be in the fold when play begins in the national amateur golf championship at Del Monte, Calif., Sept. 2. Heading the list will be Bobby Jones who is to defend his United States crown. The others are Cyril Loftis, holder of the British title; Ross Somerville, king of Canadian amateurs, and Jack Westland, who recently won the French title.

More than 200 entries for the championship had been received when the lists closed Tuesday night, virtually every first rank amateur in the country having signified his desire to compete. Fifty of these automatically are eligible because they have qualified in the last three championships. Entries of the others will be considered by the championship committee of the United States Golf association during the next few days.

MARANVILLE DENIES HE'S BRAVES' BOSS

Johnny Evers in Temporary Charge of Team Now on Western Trip

Cincinnati (AP)—The Boston Braves will have to struggle along with the services of some other person than the veteran Rabbitt Maranville as manager. Maranville said here Wednesday that he is not the manager and will not accept the position unless he is appointed for a two years term, thus interfering with plans of Judge Fuchs, the club owner.

"Judge Fuchs wanted me to take charge of the team on this trip," Maranville said, "and possibly for the remainder of the season. But I refused to take over the club unless he would give me a two year contract, which would allow me time to build the team over according to my own ideas. I did not want to do so as I asked. I am just the shortstop of the team doing the best I can in my position. I have nothing to do with handling the club."

Johnny Evers is in charge of the team on its present trip and will act as manager at least until Judge Fuchs rejoins the team, which may be in Pittsburgh this week.

MAX SCHMELING SHOWS WARES TO MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee (AP)—Max Schmeling, Germany's candidate for the throne vacated by Gene Tunney, dodged the rain drops and his sparring partners' gloves for four rounds in the ball park here Tuesday night. The German heavyweight took on Walter Heller and Walter Sells for two rounds apiece. Jimmy Gonzales, Chicago, and Leo Spiegel, Milwaukee, boxed four rounds to a draw at 120 pounds, while Jack Denny, Chicago was outpointed by Joe Sutter, Milwaukee, in four at 130 pounds.

White Sox Lose Because Of Inferior Outfield

BY JOHN J. ROMANO
Copyright, 1929

NEW YORK—The report that Tommy Loughran has renounced the light heavyweight title was a bit premature. In a talk with the writer Tommy repeated the view he had expressed during the past year that he will not give up the title until a contract calling for a fight with a prominent heavyweight, Jack Sharkey, preferred, was tendered him and signed and sealed.

"I have six months grace before I will be called upon to defend the title again. There will be ample time to do something about it then. One thing I will say, however, and I cannot put it too strong. If any match maker will come forward with a contract to fight Jack Sharkey or Max Schmeling I will gladly give up the 175-pound crown and leave it for the batch of boys I defeated in that class to fight it out among themselves.

"No one knows the difficulty I had securing matches when I did not have a title. Even as a middleweight I was forced to fight big fellows for small purses to keep going. The only reason I have been able to get fights is that my opponents figured on a break in luck to lift the title. Once I give up the title it will be the same old story. Prominent fighters will have other engagements whenever a match with me is broached.

In the short time I've had the title I've fought Mike McTigue, Jimmy Slattery, Leo Lomski, Pete Latzo twice, Mickey Walker and Jimmy Braddock. My work against these men should entitle me to a match with either Sharkey or Schmeling.

I whipped Young Stribling more convincingly than Sharkey did and whipped Johnny Rusko twice. And Risko was not the punched out fighter he was when he fought Schmeling either."

Loughran stands on his own rights and has a good case in his favor. It is now up to the promoters of the country to secure a good heavyweight for the Philadelphia to work on.

The concerted rush of contenders for the supposed vacant title has been a high light in the news of the day. Mickey Walker and Jimmy Braddock stepped forward and claimed the title. Joe Gould, manager of Braddock, thinks he should have the title because Jimmy disposed of Tuffy Griffith and Jimmy Slattery. But Gould does not say anything about Leo Lomski who beat his man Walker, who fights Leo Lomski in Philadelphia next month, has a better claim to recognition if he wins over the Aberdeen assassin. Walker made a far better showing against Loughran than Braddock did.

JACK KEARNS' WIFE THREATENS NEW SUIT

New York (AP)—Mrs. Jack Kearns was quoted in newspaper Wednesday as threatening court action over a raid on her apartment Tuesday by four men.

Mrs. Kearns, who is estranged from her husband, Jack Dempsey's former manager, said the raiders were probably seeking evidence upon which Kearns might avoid further payment of alimony. She obtained a separation five years ago.

She said one of the men was Teddy Hayes, Dempsey's former secretary and now a confidant of Kearns. She said another was a private detective. She declared all they obtained was a pair of men's socks which had been left there by her brother-in-law.

Nick Altrock, then "pitching" in the Pacific league, is credited with walking eight men and picking seven off first base in one game.

SEE BILL TILDEN AS ONLY U.S. HOPE IN DAVIS CUP PLAY

Expert Claims That Placing of Lott on Team Will Weaken Squad

PARIS (AP)—Upon Big Bill Tilden's shoulders appears to rest most of the burden in the United States' second attempt to lift the Davis cup from France.

A glance over the probable lineups in the challenge round which opens in Roland Garros stadium on Friday indicates that unless Tilden can win both his singles matches the United States' hopes of retrieving the cup lost to France in 1927 will not be realized.

The surprising move that put George Lott on the team for the challenge round in place of Frank Hunter has weakened the Americans' position in the opinion of some experts. Undoubtedly, the French will play Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra in the singles and Hunter has been a rather consistent jinx to Borotra.

With Hunter on the team there would have been a strong possibility that he would turn in one singles victory. Tausk Tilden should do better than break even the issue would have been decided in reality in the doubles where John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison, Wimbledon champions, appear to have a better than even chance of beating the best French pair—Cochet and Borotra.

With Lott on the team the expert "dope" has it that Tilden must win both his singles matches or else France will retain the cup. Lott, on a good day, can beat virtually any player in the world but he is an erratic performer and most observers expect both Cochet and Borotra to beat him. If that proves to be the case America could regain the cup only if Tilden beat Cochet and Borotra in singles and Van Ryn and Allison won in doubles whether it were against Cochet and Borotra or with Jacques Brugnon or Christian Boussus substituted for one or the other of the singles performers.

Allison and Van have impressed the critics with their form in practice sessions.

"It seems as though the best doubles team France can put in the field will be none too good to beat these college boys," said Pierre Gillou, captain of the French squad.

That remark seemed to indicate that French authorities will depend upon Cochet and Borotra not only in singles but doubles as well. In the long run that may prove fatal for Borotra no longer has the stamina he had a few years ago and three hard matches in as many days may prove too much for him.

Nick Altrock, then "pitching" in the Pacific league, is credited with walking eight men and picking seven off first base in one game.

SCHEMELING EXHIBITS IN CHICAGO TONIGHT

Chicago (AP)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight contender, will make his bow to Chicago fight fans Wednesday night at Chicago Stadium. Herr Max's appearance will not be of serious nature, consisting of a four-round exhibition with his sparring partner, Walter Heller.

The feature of the supporting card will be a six round bout between Les Marriner, former University of Illinois athlete, and Tony Fuent, Mexican heavyweight veteran. Al Friedman, Boston heavyweight, will meet Pete Wistort of Chicago, in a six round, and Salvatore Luchino, of Italy, and Jack League, Texas heavyweight, also will clash in a six round bout.

The hunting season in New Mexico lasts 10 days and a fee of $45 as charged out-of-staters.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

Chapter 43
THE LEAD BULLET
Jerry's vivid description had brought a realistic picture of the meeting between Furlie and Andrew. Our eyes were fixed on the boy as he continued his long story.
"Furlie brought a specimen from the new vein and he said he figured he was entitled to a 50-50 share in the profits. He has some claim, of course, but when dad realized Furlie had violated Uncle Jerry's tomb he went crazy. What else had Furlie done or found in the mine? Well, Furlie had found a gold mounted .45 and a passel o' bones. One of the back rib bones had a 'bullet stickin' in it. Dad must have gone mad for the moment. Where was the gun? Furlie had sold it that morning. Dad seized him by the throat. To whom had he sold it? That suave old stick, Nathan Hyde, it seemed. Dad sprang to the telephone, but Hyde had already sold the .45 to you."
"Furlie was whispering and sniffling on the floor where dad had dropped him. But he was scared and he must have got it into his head that dad was raving because of the value of the pistol. Anyhow, he pulled out the contents of one of his trousers pockets and planked them down on the desk. That's the price o' the six gun. Among the trash mixed up with the money was a bit of metal. Furlie pounced on it. 'An' that's the bullet that vuz stuck in his rib! he shouted. Dad got the shock of his life, then. It had never occurred to him in all these years that Jerry hadn't committed suicide. Now, if Jerry had killed himself, the bullet would be gold."
"It was lead!"
I sat bolt upright in my chair and Deacon all but leaped out of his. "Dad was stunned. He put Furlie out. It meant upsetting the assumptions of a lifetime, but he soon got it straight. Do you see it, Uncle John?"
"See it?" I shouted. "Of course I see it! And so does Deacon. Lundy hired Dillon, the ex-Flinker man to trap Jerry. Dillon got him and double-crossed Lundy by persuading or forcing Jerry to go in with him on something bigger. Jerry agreed and he was caught. Lundy naturally set Dillon on guard outside the mine. As soon as the crowd had gone, Dillon spoke to Jerry, told him to push out the key door. Jerry, thinking he was to be freed, obeyed. Dillon opened the door and shot him."
"Why? Because he reasoned that when Jerry felt a rope around his neck he'd try to save his own life by exposing the plot by naming his accomplices. Dillon saw no danger in snooting Jerry. He would report he had heard a shot in the mine. The miners and your father would find the door locked, the key under it, and Jerry dead with his brother's pistol at his side, an empty chamber exploded. Being a stranger, he probably knew nothing of Peterson's gold bullets and he reasoned his alibi was perfect."
"But before Dillon could get hold of Jerry's gold-mounted pistol and discharged it to account for the bullet hole in Jerry's body, Jerry, who was mortally wounded, managed to put a bullet in him. The impact knocked Dillon down. Jerry was few words he found, stowed them away in the cartridge case, and reloaded the gun. I expect he reasoned like this: If he concealed it in an unexploded cartridge Peterson was bound to see that the cartridge had been tampered with, as soon as he broke the gun to replace the empty shell. It never occurred to him that Peterson would leave the soldier's weapon. Jerry died a minute or so later."

Southern Cross Flyers May Dare Atlantic

Posed at Croydon Aerodrome, London, after a record-breaking 13-day flight from India, are Captain Kingsford-Smith and Lieutenant C. T. Ulm, pilots of the Southern Cross, who may soon undertake a trans-Atlantic flight to New York and thence to San Francisco to complete a round-the-world jaunt. This map shows their route, the dotted lines indicating the portion already covered and scenes along the way. They are shown ready for the start at Oakland, near San Francisco, wearing leopards upon their arrival in Hawaii, flying over Sydney, Australia, downed in the Australian desert and being greeted on their arrival in London by Sir Sefton Brancker, director of civil aviation. Below are closeups of the flyers, Lieutenant Ulm, left, and Captain Kingsford-Smith, right.

INSURANCE OF SLAIN MAN BRINGS BATTLE

Landlady Accused of Plotting Death Makes No Claim for Money

Macon, Ga.—(AP)—Disposition of the $14,000 insurance on the life of James V. Parks, unclaimed by the designated beneficiary, Mrs. J. C. Powers, his landlady, who is charged with plotting his death for the money, appeared in a scramble today with two administrators appointed for the 18-year-old printer's estate. Simultaneously with the designation yesterday of R. L. Anderson, Macon, attorney, as temporary administrator, upon application of North Carolina men and women claiming to be relatives of the slain youth, came announcement from Hapeville, Ga., that W. T. Anderson, manager of an orphanage there where Parks was reared, also had been appointed temporary administrator.

J. A. VanDyke and Mrs. Mattie L. Van Dyke of Asheville, N. C., who said they were uncle and aunt of the orphan boy, filed application for temporary letters of administration, and Judge Walter C. Stevens appointed R. L. Anderson.

George Westmoreland, counsel for the orphanage who announced appointment of W. T. Anderson, declined to say whether the institution would file suit to collect the insurance or contest the action of the Van Dykes.

Mrs. Powers took out the policy on Parks life only a few weeks before he was slain by Earl Manchester, his roommate, who is under sentence to be electrocuted, a Canadian youth, was convicted upon his confession which said the 21-year-old landlady promised him $1,000 of the $14,000 she expected to collect if he killed Parks.

Mrs. Powers, whose trial was continued recently to next fall, has put in no claim for the insurance.

Flashes of Life

By the Associated Press

New York—Main street is swelling the birth rate of New York city. In the last ten years the number of births here to parents from other cities has more than doubled. Superior maternity service and a desire to have offspring recorded as New Yorkers are suggested by city authorities as reasons.

Atlanta—Willie Patterson, Negro, has been having a fine time because of the sudden growth of $35 to $500. A bookkeeping error was made in transfer of his $35 from one bank to another. Willie hastened to take advantage. The bank has recovered $1,447 and brought suit for the rest, having located Willie in Detroit.

Madrid—There's to be a lot of bull throwing in New York if Sydney Franklin, Brooklyn matador, gets his heart's desire. Unless the bulls get him first he hopes to introduce the game to New York.

Chicago—E. Hamilton Lee, senior pilot of the aerial service, has flown his millionth mile.

New York—A long lost portrait of Frederick the Great has been presented to Germany by August.

EARL OF KINNOULL JOINS SOCIALISTS

London—(AP)—The Daily Express today said the Earl of Kinnoull, who is most widely known for a recent matrimonial venture, has applied to the Socialist party for admission and has been accepted. He frequently has attended debate in the house of lords during the present session and will add to the numerical strength of the Labourites in the upper house. A year ago he married Mary Lilith Merrick, daughter of the London night club proprietress, Mrs. Kate Merrick.

PARIS—(AP)—The condition of Premier Poincare, who has been confined to his bed with exhaustion and extreme fatigue, has shown such improvement his doctors intimated today he might be able to attend the final hours of debate on the debt ratification in the senate tomorrow.

His temperature has returned to normal and the intestinal intoxication from which he suffered has ameliorated rapidly. He was able to receive a number of his friends today.

BADGERS APPROVE FARM BOARD'S MOVE ON LOANS TO CO-OPS

Refusal to Aid Florida Organizations Good Move, Says Duffy

Madison—(AP)—Refusal of the new federal farm board to loan money to two cooperative fruit growing organizations in Florida because they are competing in the same field, and announcement that it they will consolidate the two boards will lend the money met with approval of cooperative leaders in Madison.

Walter A. Duffy, state commissioner of agriculture, said he favored the consolidation and does not fear all from the farm board's policy of consolidation.

"I have preached and written all along that our cooperative system will have to be organized in such a way it can be set up against the corporation system and be strong enough to accomplish its purpose. The greatest evil we have confronted is competition between various groups of cooperatives. We have numerous examples of that in Wisconsin."

"Cooperative creameries have been played against each other in such a way as to buck down butter prices and the same plan of getting cooperatives to compete amongst themselves in the market has been used with great detriment to the farmers all along the line."

Prof. B. H. Hubbard, University of Wisconsin agricultural economist said he considered the board's plan "probably necessary." "It is not beneficial, but highly detrimental to the farmer's interest," he added.

"I do not agree with some critics of Wisconsin cooperatives who say the Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco Pool is the only one organized in such a way as to qualify for loans from the farm board. If the cheese and cherry crops were we are undoubtedly properly organized to qualify."

H. L. McCurray, manager of the Dunes Farm Bureau called the move the proper one. "That's the farmers to form a decent cooperative. Larger cooperatives have a greater membership among number which it may divide the overhead expense. The trouble with farmers is that they are so busy forming small cooperatives, at one time they haven't action enough to organize properly with one cooperative. The farm board always has stood for the centralized cooperative."

UNEXPECTED RISE IN MONEY CAUSES STOCKS TO DROP

Early Advances Are Overcome When Call Rate Goes from 7 to 8 Per Cent

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL, Associated Press Financial Editor
New York (AP)—Marking up of the call money rate from 7 to 8 per cent turned the course of stock prices irregular today after an opening outburst of strength. Operations for the advance were not entirely abandoned, however, but were confined largely to a public utility, railroad and communication issues, several of which reached new high ground.
The rise in call money took many traders by surprise as it had been generally believed that the 7 per cent rate would be maintained for the rest of the week. The stringency was attributed to heavy out-of-town withdrawals in anticipation of month-end disbursements, and also to a drawing down of foreign balances in the New York market.
Except for the closing of three New Jersey banks, most of the day's business news continued favorable. Iron Age reported that "signs of a let-up in the activity of the iron and steel industry are not lacking, but there is no indication of a recession of customary summer proportions." The Iron Trade Review stated that pipe is supplying one of its periodic impulses to the steel market. Another flock of favorable earnings made their appearance, Southern Pacific showing a gain of nearly $4,700,000 in income for the first six months over the corresponding period last year.
American Telephone came back into the limelight in morning news, with six points to another new high record at 255, recent buying based on reports of large earnings from its sound picture machine patents. International Telephone was marked up more than 2 points.
Formation of new investment trusts and talk of further consolidations kept speculative interest alive in the public utility shares. Buying centered largely in the stocks of western companies. Pacific Lighting ran up more than 10 points to a new high at 111 3/4. Southern California Edison climbed more than 3 points and Electric Gas 2 1/2. General Gas & Electric "A" was heavily bought, climbing nearly 7 points to a new high at 100 1/2.
A spectacular jump of 15 points in Boston and Maine to a new high at 142 over shadowed all other developments in the railroad group but Atlantic Coast Line, but St. Paul Preferred, Lackawanna, Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific yielded to profit-taking.
U. S. Steel common crossed 210 to a new record price and then ran into selling which carried it back about 2 points.
Michigan and Bethlehem Steel sagged below yesterday's quotations. Motors also turned heavy actions. An early interval of strength Chrysler, General Motors, Graham Paige and Auburn selling 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points below yesterday's close in the early afternoon.
The market encountered considerable selling in spots during the last hour, when call money was put up to 9 per cent. United States Steel lost all of its gain and registered a fractional net loss. Otis Elevator dropped 18 points and the air stocks were under pressure. Wright, Curtiss and United losing three or four points. American Telephone continued strong, however, extending its gain to more than eight points. The close was irregular. Total sales approximated 3,900,000 shares.

COLORADO FUEL CO. APPROVES DIVIDENDS

Denver (AP)—The board of directors of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company have voted a dividend of 2 per cent of the preferred stock of the company, payable Aug. 26, of this year to stockholders of record on Aug. 10. No dividend was declared on the common stock.

HOG PRICES RISE 10 TO 15 CENTS

Quick Comeback Is Staged on Moderate Run of 17,000 Receipts

Chicago (AP)—The hog market staged a quick comeback in the shape of a 10c to 15c advance in prices on a moderate run of 17,000 received here, of which 4,000 went straight to millers. The state supply of 10,000 did not seem to dampen the ardor of buyers who took good lights and butchers at 12.15@12.25 during the first rounds of the session. Eleven markets showed a material reduction in volume of offerings and shippers were not slow in responding to the demand for higher prices.
Bovine receipts, estimated officially at 9,000, were in line with last Wednesday's run, but the total for the week to date is 9,000 larger than during the first three days of the previous week. Packers received nearly 4,000 head of cattle direct today, and paid no attention to the inferior grassy steers, bulk of the steers met with a poor demand and weaker prices were in sight, while finished steers continued in demand at the season's peak prices.
Packers received 4,732 lambs on direct consignment out of the estimate run of 10,000. Six cars of natives and a like number of western lambs of only fair quality, made up the bulk of the supply offered for competitive action. Prices were unchanged, but the market was slow.

HEAVY TRADING SWAMPS TICKERS

Many Buying and Selling Orders but Prices Are Generally Higher

New York (AP)—The curb market was swamped with both buying and selling orders today, the ticker falling more than an hour behind trading by early afternoon. The buying movement was the stronger, and prices generally sought higher levels, particularly in the utilities, but there was such a tendency to take profits, but bullish activity was pushed forward vigorously, and the selling was well absorbed.
Middle West Utilities, Insull holding company, shot up 25 points more to 360, Buffalo Niagara and Eastern, Mohawk and Hudson sold up more than 5 points, and Northeastern Power was strong. Niagara Hudson, Morgan sponsored holding company for the last three named, was also well bought, reaching new high levels above 30. Commonwealth and Southern were turned over in large volume at slightly higher prices, fluctuating near its peak price above 23.
Electric Investor rose more than 4 points above 260, and Electric Bond and Share, American Superpower, Allied Power, United Light and Power, and Long Island Lighting made substantial gains. Profit taking, however, depressed a few of the utility issues somewhat, notably United Gas Improvement, Stone and Webster, and Arkansas Natural Gas.
Goldman Sachs was strong on the enthusiastic reception received by announcement of its new investment company, Shenandoah Corp. in the air stocks. Western Air Express and Fokker were turned over. Bendix Co. was a high flier, mounting 20 points to 200, a record dive. Ford of Canada sold off moderately.
In the old Couden shot up more than 5 points, but lost some of its gain. Humble and Gulf were somewhat heavy.

HEAVY SELLING CAUSES WHEAT TO SLIDE DOWNWARD

Drop Comes Despite Pessimistic Reports on Canadian Crop

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago (AP)—Heavy selling in connection with marketing of newly harvested domestic wheat in the southwest did much to pull wheat prices downward today, especially near the finish. The lowering of wheat values was in the face of assertions that the peak of the southwestern crop movement is past. Some estimates today put the total yield of wheat in the Canadian prairie provinces this season at as little as 200,000,000 bu. but drought developments appeared to have lost force as a market influence, at least for the time being.
Wheat values turned downward today on announcement that requests had been refused for government vessels to store domestic wheat pending export shipments from Gulf of Mexico ports where a big accumulation of railroad receipts with no adequate foreign outlet has brought about congestion. Earlier, the market had shown a decided upward trend, with European prices advancing and crops reported as further deteriorating northwest. Rapid fluctuations, though followed prices setback advice being current that export business on a large scale in North American wheat was being looked for in some quarters.
No particular evidence of any special European demand today was apparent, however, according to usually well-informed authorities. On the other hand, advice was at hand that drought conditions in Australia were causing alarm, and that today's market strength in Liverpool was based a good deal on the pessimistic Australian crop outlook. Liverpool wheat future deliveries closed today at quarter to 3-4 pence gain.
Commission houses were on the buying side of corn during the early trade, but when wheat turned weak this support dried up and there was enough selling to carry prices off about 2c from the early top. Oats sold off with other grains.
Commission house buying of lard gave firmness to the provision market.

CHICAGO STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Boost in Call Money Brings Some Prices Down After Early Rise

Chicago (AP)—Firming up of call money rates brought considerable irregularity into trading on the Chicago stock exchange today after a number of issues, principally the Insull Utility stocks, had been whirled up to record heights. Midwestern common, after opening at 355, compared with a previous close of 340 1/2, fell back several points, then ran up again to register a new top above 356. National Electric Power "A" established a new high above 52. Central and Southwest gained more than 4 to a new high of 127 1/2, and Edison rose 8 to a new high mark of 348.
Insull Utility was in good demand above 82, and Chicago Corporation common and preferred were higher.

ROME TO WITNESS GREAT PAGEANT AS POPE VISITS CITY

Occasion Will Be First Time
Church Head Has Left
Vatican In 60 Years

Rome—The Eternal City of Rome, which has seen pageants and heard the silver trumpets of triumphal processions since the days of the Caesars, is preparing for one of the greatest displays in all its history on July 27 next.

On that date Pope Pius XI will leave the Vatican and go out into the city of Rome.

The spokesman of the Vatican, a prisoner no longer, will signalize the new state of affairs brought about by the recently signed concordat between the papacy and the Italian government by doing what no pope has done for nearly 60 years—stepping forth from the Vatican grounds, crossing the Tiber and appearing in public on Italian soil.

The occasion will bring one of the most impressive celebrations in all the history of Rome.

Uncounted thousands of people will line the streets. Trim Fascist soldiers will stand at salute along the way. The picturesque Papal Guard, in their medieval costumes, will precede the pope in martial array. Priests, cardinals, bishops, decked in the magnificent robes of the church, will march in solemn procession. Then—perhaps borne in his chair, perhaps riding in the luxurious automobile, recently given him by Italian admirers for his journey outside the Vatican walls—will come Pope Pius himself.

Rome, filled with landmarks more than 20 centuries old, affords a dozen historic streets down which the first procession of the pope could go. But of them all there is one site more sacred to Catholicism than any other in Italy—the church and palace of St. John Lateran, and it is to this shrine that the pope is expected to lead his procession.

The Lateran palace and cathedral are even older and more storied than the Vatican and St. Peter's. The Lateran palace, in the reign of the Emperor Constantine, who established Christianity in the Roman empire, became the official residence of the popes, and remained so for many centuries. The cathedral adjoining it was built by Constantine in 319. Convents, chapels and churches began to spring up around it, and in the course of time a residence for the popes was erected there, although the Lateran continued to be their official home.

BUILDINGS REBUILT MANY TIMES

The buildings there now are not, of course, the ones that the old Roman empire saw. They have been rebuilt a number of times following the ravages of war, fire and earthquake. But it is worth noting that the Lateran, and not the Vatican, was the official residence of the popes until nearly 1400 A. D.

The original basilica of St. Peter's was built by Constantine in 319. Convents, chapels and churches began to spring up around it, and in the course of time a residence for the popes was erected there, although the Lateran continued to be their official home.

In the ninth century the invading Saracens pillaged St. Peter's and its environs, and Pope Leo IV later enclosed the whole neighborhood in a fortified wall. During the stormy days of the middle ages it was several times necessary for the popes to repair to this citadel to resist sieges.

It was not until after the return of the popes from Avignon, in 1378, that the Vatican became the seat of the church government; and it was then that the money and artistic effort were expended to make the Vatican and St. Peter's rank among the most beautiful buildings in the world.

The pope's emergence from the Vatican on July 27 marks the end of the popes' "imprisonment," which began in 1870 when the Garibaldians seized Rome. Since that time no pope has left the Vatican grounds. These are fairly extensive, with large gardens and quiet walks, providing the pontiff with room for exercise, fresh air and relaxation but across the Tiber into the central part of Rome the popes would not go. And, since the Lateran is far across the city, that shrine of the church has seen no pope for 60 years.

Prior to 1870 the pope was temporal ruler of territory known as the Papal States—territory which originally included Romagna, the Marches, Umbria and the Patrimony of St. Peter. These were annexed by the new kingdom of Italy between 1860 and 1870, however, leaving the pope his spiritual rulership only.

HAS FULL POWER IN PAPAL STATE

Under the Concordat, the Italian government recognizes the pope as ruler of the state of the City of the Vatican, and declares this territory to be neutral and inviolable. This includes the Vatican and its grounds and a few scattered fragments of land outside the Vatican walls—the Cancellaria Palace, in the heart of Rome, the palace and church of St. John Lateran and Sasseti Gandolfo, a country estate 17 miles south-east of Rome in the Albano hills.

Legislative, executive and judicial powers over these territories are in the hands of the pope, who is supreme in his kingdom, but who will probably delegate certain of these powers to such officials as the governor of the City of the Vatican and the cardinal secretary of state.

LOSE CASTE IN PARIS

Paris—(AP)—French menus have been cut in half since the war and the traditional "two-hours-for-lunch" habit in Paris is becoming a thing of the past. The comparison of the menu put out by one of the most famous Paris restaurants in 1909 and the same bill of fare in 1929, shows a ratio of dishes of 1 in 3.

"What was the reason?" was asked of a prominent banker, known as an epicure and epigrammatist. "Intelligence and indigestion," he replied.

RATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY IS HEARD OVER RADIO

World Over National Hook-up

BY ROBERT MACK

Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press

Washington—A glistering word-picture of the formal ratification by the major powers of the world of the Kellogg anti-war pact was broadcast direct from the White House to the nation, and by short waves, to other nations.

Wednesday, when President Hoover proclaimed the peace pact in force, and when the plenipotentiaries of the 26 adhering nations appended their signatures to it, the two national broadcasting chains carried the event over nationwide networks and rebroadcast to whatever foreign countries that desired to pick it up.

It marked the first time in radio history that so significant an international event has been broadcast, and it was the first time that the microphone has invaded the White House during the Hoover administration.

President Hoover's address of proclamation to the assembled dignitaries, and Secretary of State Stimson's speech was carried into the air, as well as the reading of the pact and the description of the ceremonies by the announcers. Broad-casting began at about 1 o'clock, eastern standard time, and probably continued for about an hour.

Former President Coolidge and former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, author of the treaty, were present.

DIRECT FROM CAPITOL

The broadcasting was direct from the east room of the executive mansion. For the National Broadcasting company, David Lawrence, noted Washington writer, and editor of the United States Daily, described the event over a network that included some 60 of the N. B. C. stations, as well as its short wave transmitter in New York for the rebroadcasting. John B. Daniel, N. B. C. announcer, also was assigned for the occasion.

The Columbia Broadcasting system likewise arranged a nationwide network. It invaded Canada with one or more of the three stations in the domain associated with it. The station WABC short wave transmitter in New York carried the program to other nations. Frederick William Wile, prominent Washington correspondent, was Columbia's special announcer.

Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Wile described the ceremony from the beginning. They announced the arrival of the guests to include, besides the actual participants, members of the cabinet, of congress and of the diplomatic corps. The international peace pact also was analyzed and interpreted by the authorities.

Only on four previous occasions have ceremonies been broadcast from the White House. In each case—all during the Coolidge administration—they were from the presidential study. This is the first time that the microphone has been placed in the White House proper.

Every precaution was taken to avoid interruption of the broadcasting. For example, N. B. C. had three telephone broadcasting lines running from the White House to its Washington studios, which were connected with the entire N. B. C. network.

Both chains, naturally, had cancelled their regular features for the duration of the treaty broadcast. Arrangements for the broadcasting of the event were made at the eleventh hour, but, with customary alertness, the two national networks met the occasion.

Original Concoction

Gave Soda Its Name

Why is a soda called a soda when there is no soda in a soda? Thousands of people every day wipe their hot necks, knock their heels on a drugstore counter high chair and demand flavored carbonated water by the name of "soda." Here's the reason.

Although these courting and post-movie concoctions rarely contain soda in any form the name originated applied when sodium contained in a hot degree Fahrenheit water is really but ordinary water into which carbonic acid has been forced under pressure. On exposure to the ordinary atmospheric pressure, the excess of carbonic acid escapes, thus causing effervescence.

Not only is it used to cool parched throats but also to cool drills and punches in metal working.

The ancient Greeks did not sweat in ninety degrees Fahrenheit and fan their faces with their togas while their classic tongues stuck to the roofs of their classic mouths for want of a good cool Babbittian drink.

Even in the time of Nero there were ice houses. Snow was placed in cold shaped pits 45 feet by fifty feet deep and lined with straw and tree pruning. The snow was packed down and covered with more straw and prunings, over all of which was placed a thatched roof. After the ice formed it was cut and carried out through a door in the pit to the frigidariums of the Caesars, senators and the Roman matrons.

In the tenth century, snow and ice was stored in cellars for the purpose of drinks to cool the hot eschabell behind knights' armor. The custom spread from Greece to Italy to western Europe and France during the reign of Henry III in the tenth century.

By the end of the seventeenth century the sale of snow and ice had become a profitable trade. Until the beginning of the nineteenth century the ice trade was at a standstill. No advance in harvesting methods nor the manufacture of artificial ice were made.

Talks To Parents

HOBBIES FOR GROWNUPS

BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

Children must often find their grownups fearfully dull.

Father does nothing but work and talk business and read the stock market columns in the newspaper. Mother is absorbed in housekeeping and home-making. Neither father nor mother ever seems to do anything just for fun. Even their parties and club meetings go by the name of "social obligations."

When children of such parents are planning good times they would never think of asking their parents to join them. True, these same parents may, with the best of motives, take their children on conscientious "pleasure trips." They may even attempt to achieve a sense of comradeship by reading aloud to the children every evening just before bedtime. But as long as they do these things from a sense of duty, the children reflect their lack of joyous spontaneity.

Nothing is so infectious as delight. And nothing is more delightful to a child than the society of an adult who himself has strong enthusiasms and vivid satisfactions.

A father who plays tennis with skill and zest, a mother who is keen about her garden, and uncle who actually gets up early to watch the birds, these have something real to offer children. An adult with a hobby is never colorless or uninteresting, especially when he is willing to share the experience which to him is so satisfying.

Cultivate your hobbies. Cultivate them primarily for their own sake, but also for the sake of the joy which you thus will communicate to your children. Share your enthusiasms with your children and they will share theirs with you.

LIBRARY GETS BOOKS IN DUTCH LANGUAGE

Eight of the 25 new books in the Dutch language to be added to the Appleton public library within the next few weeks have arrived and are being catalogued. The books are all fiction, written in a simple style.

English, German, French and Spanish speaking people have had little difficulty in finding reading matter in their native tongue in the library, but those who could read only Dutch have had only four or five novels at their disposal. However upon the request for Dutch books from a resident of Little Chute, the library placed an order for 25 books written in this language.

DEPRIEST TAKES UP NEGRO'S CAUSE FOR FINISH FIGHT

Announces Willingness to Help Organize New Political Party

BY OWEN L. SCOTT

Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press

Chicago—After the notoriety that attended the entertainment of his wife at a White House tea, Oscar DePriest, the country's one negro congressman, now is seeking new worlds to conquer.

Back among his constituents, he announces his willingness to help organize a negro political party, which he believes eventually could send 100 colored politicians to congress. At the same time he is ready to do battle with those southern states in which negroes, as a general thing, do not vote.

In addition, Congressman DePriest is determined that Annapolis and West Point shall finally be compelled to accept negro youths to be trained as naval and army officers. His first appointees either did not take the examinations because of fear of race feeling, or did not qualify.

"I am the only one of 435 congressmen in the capital who will appoint a negro to a service academy," he is telling his colored constituents, "thus starting them on their careers as officers of the United States Army or navy. They ask me in Washington what I will do if these appointees fail? I tell them I'll appoint more of them, and I will."

The congressman asserts that there are 100 congressional districts in the country which could return negro congressmen if negroes held unhampered rights to vote.

Congressman DePriest is telling his audiences that he intends to in-produce an election law bill that "will create more storm than the White House tea party given Mrs. DePriest." His idea is to create a separate bit of machinery for federal elections, placing national government boards in charge of national elections in southern states which now require an educational test to be passed before local election boards before a person is qualified to vote.

"I am going to tour the south and teach my people their own rights under the constitution," he declares. "We intend to get the negro his vote in congress."

The congressman long has figured in the politics of the colored wards of Chicago and twice has been indicted on charges of conspiring to violate laws against gambling, but was acquitted once and the indictment was quashed in the other instance. He has been affiliated with the William Hale Thompson faction of the Republican party locally.
